Shelby Boys And Girls On Radio Program

County 4-H Club Members Will Broadcast Over Two Stations Next Saturday

Shelby County 4-H girls and boys will present the annual State Achievement Program to be broadcast over stations WSGN and WAPI on Saturday morning, November 5, from 10:30 to 11:30. The first fifteen minutes of this program will come to you over the Columbia Network direct from Washington. The next 30 minutes will come to you from the WAPI studios in Birmingham and will be given by outstanding 4-H girls and boys who live in Shelby County. It is an honor for our county girls and boys to be chosen for this program. The 30-minute state broadcast given by the Shelby County clubs will be in the form of a play dramatizing an Achievement Day Program such as is held annually in Columbiana.

Nina Winslett, an outstanding 4-H club member of Helena, Rt. 1, will preside over this meeting. Others taking part are: John Paul Poole, Helena; Jessie Lee Broadhead, Calera; Kathleen and Wilbert Anderson, Montevallo; Margaret Ingram, Montevallo, Rt. 1; Louise Johnson, Calera; Leonard Wyatt, Jr., Vincent Rt. 1; J. D. Walters, Pelham; and Annie Lou Douglas, Pelham. The Calera 4-H clubs will go in a body to act as a chorus which will furnish music for the occasion. Miss Bess Rice, public school music director, will be in charge of the music. Between 125 and 150 girls and boys will make the journey to Birmingham Saturday to take part on this program.

Mr. T. A. Sims, state 4-H club leader, and Mr. Harwood Hull, Jr., will assist Anne Watson and W. M. Clark, club agent, with this program. The last 15 minutes of the program will again come to you direct from Washington over the Columbia network. The program from there will be concerned with the achievements of 4-H girls and boys over the entire nation.

Boy Scouts Secure Cabin Site

Boy Scouts of Montevallo are happy at the consummation of an agreement with Dr. Doster, of Birmingham, whereby a site near Big Spring has been secured for erection of a Scout cabin.

The lease was signed last week by members of the Scout troop committee and the boys went to work last Saturday cleaning off the site for the building.

Dr. A. W. Vaughan, chairman of the troop committee, is assembling data from which plans will be made for the permanent Scout cabin, which will be made in rustic style from pine logs, native stone and concrete.

Study Club Sponsors Art Exhibit

The Montevallo Study Club is sponsoring an art exhibit for students of Alabama College November 1 to 15, in Bloch Hall.

This exhibit is held in connection with the exhibit for artists from all over the state. An invitation is extended to the public to see the work of students which will be exhibited during this period.

C. D. TATUM PROMOTED IN R. O. T. C. UNIT

University, Ala.—Colonel D. Tatum, Jr., a student at the University of Alabama, from Montevallo, has been promoted to line sergeant in the school R. O. T. C., a recent military bulletin states.

Tatum is a sophomore in the School of Commerce and Business Administration at the University.

Meeting of Siluria Social Club

The Social Club of Siluria met October 12, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Denham, with Mrs. L. F. Ward as joint hostess. The home was beautifully decorated with dahlias and other late summer flowers. A very interesting program on "System in the Home" was given by Mrs. S. M. Tatum, Mrs. H. M. Johnson and Mrs. J. D. Barton.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed and a shower was given for Mrs. E. C. Farris, followed by a delicious salad course.

Clanton Gave Us A Flogging

Montevallo met Clanton in foreign territory last Friday afternoon and came away on the short end of a 13-0 score. The first touchdown was made about midway of the first quarter on a forward pass to Melton. The extra point was made on a pass from Armstrong to Melton. At the end of the first quarter, on a screened pass from Armstrong to Melton, the set-up for the second touchdown was made. At the beginning of the second period Bud Loklear went over on a quarterback sneak for the second and final touchdown of the game.

The remainder of the game was played in Clanton territory. Montevallo seemed to be able to keep it there, but they just couldn't get it over the goal line.

Outstanding players were Liddle, Vaughan, Dement, in the backfield; Thomas, Nix, and Williamson on the line.

D. A. R. Chapter At School Dedication

The David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was represented last Sunday at the dedication of the new Health Hall of the Kate Duncan School, by Mrs. T. H. Napier, vice-regent for the state.

She was accompanied by Dr. Napier, and by Mrs. C. G. Chap and Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, members of the chapter.

The Kate Duncan Smith School, built by chapters of the D. A. R. from various states, is located on Gunter Mountain at Grant, Alabama. Health Hall was the eighth building to be added to this model plant serving this mountain district, and was given by Mrs. Minette Mills Dick of Maryland. Indiana has just announced a gift of $5,000 for a model farm adjoining the property.

Nine national officers were present, including the president general, Mrs. Robert, who talked to the school, its patrons and guests in Recreation Hall, dedicated last year. Visitors were delighted with new principal and his capable wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Evans, and their success in raising standards. There are 20 members of the faculty.

Mrs. Napier attended a meeting of the state board in Montgomery on Monday. Mrs. O. B. Cooper accompanied her.

ARMISTICE DAY Football Game

Capt. Hicks announces a cracker-jack football game at the High School field in Montevallo for Friday afternoon, November 11, Armistice Day.

The boys from Isabella High School will be here for their annual contest with the Montevallo eleven.

This promises to be one of the best games of the year. You will have time to get your lunch after the program at Palmer Hall and get to the field in time for the kick-off.

Temperature of the Community Chest

At the time we go to press Wednesday afternoon the temperature of the Community Chest stands a little over 1500.

The goal was set at $1700. Dr. Vaughan, chairman of the solicitation committee, said Wednesday:

"While the drive was announced to close October 30, we have determined to continue for a few days, believing that when we have finished interviewing those we have not yet seen, we will be able to bring our pledges up to the total of $1700 asked for by the Chest Board."

College Beauties In Elite Parade

Outstanding Students in Many Different Fields Will Be Elected by Classmates

Candidates for Technala honors will pass in parade in the Elite Night program at Alabama College, Tuesday night, November 8, in Palmer Hall.

Class beauties selected by the four classes are, freshmen: Annie Boyd Parker, Judy Jones, Virginia Boykin, and Rebecca Beeland; sophomores: Alice Elizabeth Mims, Margaret Reddoch, Helen Hope Balch, Marguerite Tillman; juniors: Louise Caine, Vandelyn Lazenby, Martha Corbin, Jerry Creel; seniors: Faith Russell, Aline Holmes, Eloise Carlisle, Nell McKemie.

From the 16 class beauties out-of-town judges will select the four beauties of the college. Upperclassmen will vote on candidates for Miss Alabama College, musician, actress, executive, writer, artist, sophistication, athlete, and hostess. The candidates are nominated by petitions signed by at least 50 students.

Methodist Women Will Observe Week of Prayer

The women in Methodism are observing the week of November 6-12 as Week of Prayer. We are inviting the women of our church to join us and are urging that each individual observe the entire week engaging in earnest prayer for our missionaries and for our work. Its observance began sixty years ago, and we are hopeful that this anniversary celebration will result in building a better world for humanity. The offering will be used to promote activities in China and for the French Mission in Louisiana.

Services will be held at the church on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at three o'clock, and on Thursday, an all-day retreat. At Tuesday's service "Our Stake in China" will be discussed, and on Wednesday we will learn of the McDonald French Mission. Members are requested to study supplementary material found in the October World Outlook. Please note particularly articles by Dr. John R. Mott, Muriel Lester, and the story of the Virginia K. Johnson Home in Dallas, Texas. On Thursday the service will begin at 11 a.m. for the all-day retreat. Lunch will be served at the church. "Unrealized Goods" will be the topic for discussion.

A full attendance is urged, and may each one come in a prayerful attitude.

Fiddlers Convention Armistice Night

A fiddlers convention is to be held at Calera Junior High School Friday night, November 11 (Armistice Day) sponsored by Ware-Crim Post No. 56, American Legion, to raise funds to buy Santa Claus for needy children.

Musicians from all over the county are expected to attend. A feature of the program will be tap and buck dancing. First prize will be a double barrel shot gun, second, prize $4.00. Prizes will be awarded by local merchants. Refreshments will be served by the Legion Auxiliary. Admission is 10c and 20c.

Legion Selling New Alabama Book

"Alabama, a Social and Economic History of the State," by Marie Bankhead Owen, is a new book which is published for the American Legion by the Dixie Book Company. The volume is over 600 pages, profusely illustrated with original drawings, photographs and maps.

A section is devoted to a sketch of the history of each county. The state history is in topical form.

The book retails for $3.00. It is sold through the Alabama Department of the American Legion—which means that it may be obtained through any post of the Legion in any community in Alabama.

Adjutant R. P. Holcomb, of the Montevallo Post, has the necessary order blanks. If you are interested in obtaining one of these books, get in touch with Mr. Holcomb.

The local post is anxious to make as many sales as possible. Out of the money paid for each book 50 cents will be used for welfare work with underprivileged children.

Red Men Coming Next Saturday

The Alabama District Convention of the Improved Order of Red Men will be held in Montevallo next Saturday, November 5, when about 500 representatives and visitors from the different tribes of the state are expected to be in attendance.

The meeting will be held at the Legion Hut Saturday afternoon, when officers of the Great Council of Alabama will conduct a business session.

Saturday night the members of Wauhoma Tribe of Montevallo will entertain the visitors with a sandwich supper at the hut, after which a public session will be held. Everybody is invited to attend the night session and hear speeches by Mr. Sam Hall, of Birmingham, and other speakers prominent in the Improved Order of Red Men of Alabama.

Harman Speaker On Armistice Program

Celebration Arranged by Legion Will Be Related to National Education Week

The twentieth anniversary Armistice Day celebration for Montevallo community will be held at Palmer Hall Friday, November 11. The program will begin at 11 a.m. Dr. A. F. Harman, president of Alabama College, will be the speaker for the occasion.

The program will be arranged by Hendrick-Hudson Post of the Legion and Auxiliary. The celebration of Armistice this year will be harmonized with the observance of American Education Week. "Education for Tomorrow's America" is the nationwide topic. The subject of Dr. Harman's address will be related to this topic.

The purpose of the Legion, in addition to patriotic motives, is to join with educational organizations in focusing public attention upon the schools of America.

In addition to the address by Dr. Harman, the program will feature selections by the Montevallo High School Band, appropriate songs, recitations, etc.

Armistice is a legal holiday and all stores in Montevallo will be closed. A most urgent invitation is extended to everyone to attend the program at Palmer Hall. The Legion and Auxiliary are especially glad to have the privilege of presenting Dr. Harman for the address of the day, and we unhesitatingly commend his speech in advance to the ears of our citizens.

After the program at Palmer Hall you will have time to get lunch and then an opportunity to attend a good football game at the High School field. Isabella will be here for what is expected to be a spirited game with the local boys.

Let's all lay aside our business cares on Armistice Day and enjoy the good things that are prepared for our entertainment and edification.

Public Relations Banquet

The Public Affairs Committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club is sponsoring a banquet to be given at the Methodist Church at 7:30 Monday evening, November 7. Officers and members of all local clubs are cordially invited to attend. Those who have not already made reservations should get in touch with Mrs. Stanley Mahan, Miss Ollie Tillman, or Mrs. Denson Elliott by Friday morning of this week. This is another sign of the spirit of cooperation existing between the various local organizations and it is hoped that the attendance will be large. Honored guests at the banquet will be Mrs. Ruth McInnis, Charleston, South Carolina, regional co-chairman; and Mrs. Carrie K. Andrews, Montgomery, Alabama state president.

Fellowship Supper

On Friday evening of this week, at 7 p.m., the Social Committee of the Baptist Church will serve a fellowship supper to the men of the church. All the men of the church and all of Baptist affiliation are invited to be present. There will be no charge and no offering. A good program and a good speaker will be provided. Come and get acquainted with each other and enjoy an evening of good fellowship.

U. D. C. MEETING

The Montevallo Chapter of U. D. C. will meet on the second Thursday in November with Mrs. F. W. Rogan, at 3 in the afternoon.

Miss Lillian Barksdale will be the speaker.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS

What is more fitting for Christmas than beautiful lights?

We arrange lights in our homes, our schools and churches, and places of business. Why not get together and light up the whole town?

The Study Club will initiate the movement this year, and we hope they may have the full cooperation of everyone.

Montevallo should not stay behind in the matter of Christmas lights. Other towns are doing it and adding greatly to the Christmas spirit.

It makes one feel good to drive into a town about Christmas and find the whole place beaming brightly with lights of many colors strung everywhere.

Let's do it in Montevallo this year and from now on.

THE RED MEN

The Indians are coming. Montevallo will be full of them next Saturday afternoon and night. The chiefs, warriors, and braves from half a hundred tribes in Alabama will be here in full dress of paint and feathers, carrying native tomahawks, scalping knives and war clubs.

It will be a peaceful mission, however, the occasion of the regular assembly of the convention of the Great Council District.

About 500 visitors are expected for this occasion. Wauhoma Tribe of Montevallo, will entertain the visitors and all palefaces of the community are invited to the Saturday night session to smoke the pipe of peace with the visiting chiefs.

GIRL SCOUTS

A training conference for Girl Scout leaders and council members will be held at the Tutwiler Hotel Saturday, November 5. Those attending from Montevallo are Misses Frances Ribble, Harriette Stripling, Mrs. J. T. Bagwell and Mrs. A. W. Vaughan. Miss Ray Mitchell, director of the Dixie Region, will be in charge, assisted by Miss Mary Esther Brooks, who has been lately added to the staff.

Troop 2

The Girl Scouts of Troop 2 held their meeting by Palmer Hall Tuesday afternoon. Miss Ribble, our captain, told us a lot about Juliette Low, whose birthday is on Halloween. She was the founder of Girl Scouting, bringing it to the United States 26 years ago. Miss Ribble's story of her life was very interesting and Juliette Low should be inspiring to us.

Miss Elouise Peck arranged a treasure hunt for us. The treasure was Girl Scout chocolate candy in an attractive box, decorated with a trefoil. It went to Betty Cain. The signs we followed to find the treasure we had learned in the tenderfoot rank. Most of us needed a little review of them.

Afterwards we talked about our party which will be Friday night at the Elementary School building. The committees in charge met and made plans for our first party of the year, which we hope will be successful. Twenty girls and three leaders were present.

MONTEVALLO LOCAL NEWS

The Montevallo Study Club

The Montevallo Study Club held its regular meeting October 26, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, with Mrs. G. P. Rogan as co-hostess.

The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. E. H. Wills. Attractive year books were distributed by Mrs. L. C. Parnell, program chairman. Mrs. F. P. Givhan, welfare chairman, reported that with the cooperation of club members and a number of friends, the rummage sale held last Saturday was a great success. The receipts from the sale were considerably more than from any previous sale.

A committee with Mrs. R. P. Holcomb as chairman was appointed to work with the Alabama Power Company in sponsoring an outdoor Christmas lighting program. Mrs. Wills gave a very interesting report of the district meeting which was held in Tuscaloosa on October 25. Club members who attended this meeting were Mrs. E. H. Wills, Mrs. E. P. Hood, Mrs. F. P. Givhan, Mrs. L. C. Parnell, Mrs. W. F. Tidwell and Mrs. G. T. Towery.

The club voted to cooperate with the Studiosis and other community clubs in beautifying the cemetery.

Mrs. Parnell introduced Mrs. Tidwell who reviewed "Rachel's Children," by Harriett Hassell, and Mrs. M. P. Jeter, who reviewed the play "Susan and God," by Crothers.

Three new members, Mrs. M. L. Orr, Mrs. J. F. Baker and Mrs. W. D. Jackson, were welcomed into the club. Other members to whom a delicious salad plate was served were: Mesdames M. P. Jeter, Jr., L. C. Parnell, E. D. Reynolds, M. C. Jeter, J. P. Kelly, E. P. Hood, E. H. Wills, W. F. Tidwell, F. P. Givhan, R. P. Holcomb, W. L. Gravlee and G. T. Towery.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration In Alabama And Domestic Allotment Plan

(By A. W. Jones, Administrative Officer)

Last week we began a discussion of the present farm program and a comparison of this program with the domestic allotment plan being advocated by certain interests to replace this present program. Today, I want to go further into this plan and try to show some of the weak points of this plan and what effect it will have on the Alabama farmers.

What are some of the arguments made in favor of the domestic allotment plan? Advocates of the so-called domestic allotment plan state that it would assure "parity on the domestic consumption," that is, parity on that portion of the crop consumed in the United States, and regain our foreign markets.

It is claimed that the loss of our cotton exports is due to acreage control programs attempted in the South since 1933 and that the way to win back these exports is with unlimited cotton production and cheap prices. What is the truth with regard to this? There is very little, if any, evidence to show that production control has caused any reduction in our exports of cotton. Cotton loans at levels above the world price have very likely resulted in some curtailment of our exports of cotton. The reduction in our exports of farm crops, which began in a big way prior to AAA, was one of the big reasons why Congress provided for production control in the AAA Act of 1933 and the AAA Act of 1938.

American agricultural exports have decreased since 1930 for several reasons:

(1) American tariff policies as set forth in the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act of 1930, have made it difficult for foreign countries to sell their products in this country and thus obtain money or credit with which to buy American goods, either agricultural or industrial.

(2) Foreign countries have sought to become agriculturally self-sufficient because of their fears of war, and therefore, have erected trade barriers against the importation of American farm products. These barriers have taken the form of tariffs, embargoes, exchange control, and other measures.

(3) The United States is now a creditor, no longer a debtor nation, and foreign countries can pay their debts to this country only in the form of goods and services.

Because of the American and foreign restrictions on trade and the fact that the United States is now a creditor nation, foreign countries can buy American products only by (1) sending their own products to this country, selling them, and using the dollars received to buy American goods; (2) by sending gold to the United States, who already has more than one-half of all the gold in the world.

Only about six to seven million bales of our cotton are used in the United States each year. If we are to sell more, it must be sold to foreign mills. If we sell to other countries, we must buy their goods. Before 1930, the tariff restricted our foreign trade, but the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act of that year literally destroyed it. By passage of the Smoot-Hawley Act, we limited sales of foreign goods to consumers in the United States. Since foreign buyers could not sell us goods, they could not obtain dollars for use in buying our cotton. About the time the 1930 tariff act was passed, another thing happened which made a decline in our exports certain. After the World War, we lent huge sums of money to foreign borrowers and this money was used to buy our cotton and other exports. Foreign indebtedness to the United States, exclusive of war debts, increased from $4,500,000,000 in 1920 to $9,600,000,000 in 1930. Then we quit lending money abroad. Two sources of American dollars to foreign buyers were thus entailed. We closed the gate and nailed a bar across it. The certainty resulted—our foreign buyers took less of our cotton and other commodities. Our total exports shrank from $5,157,000,000 in 1929 to $1,647,000,000 in 1933.

The foreign trade, financial, debt, and credit policies of the United States is today one of the most vital factors in the welfare of Southern farmers and a subject on which they should be thoroughly familiar so that they would not be misled by advocates of a proposed farm plan

INFANT MORTALITY RATE IS LOWER IN 1937

Montgomery, Ala. — Alabama's provisional infant mortality rate for 1937 was approximately five per cent lower than the 1936 rate, according to announcement today by the State Department of Health.

The provisional 1937 rate was 63.4 per 1,000 live births, as compared with the 1936 rate of 66.6 per 1,000 live births.

Provisional vital statistics figures show that 100 fewer Alabama babies died before reaching their first birthday last year than in 1936, in spite of an estimated increase of 32,037 in the state's population.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 3,874 bales of cotton were ginned in Shelby County from the crop of 1938 prior to October 18, as compared with 6,344 bales for the crop of 1937. —Gordon Mooney, Special Agent.

that violates all sound thought with regard to foreign cotton sales, and betterment of living standards at home.

The Fords Tell Their Plans for 1939

IF WE KNEW anything better we could do for the country than make good motor cars, we would do it.

By every one doing his best in the job he thinks most useful, this country is going to regain its momentum. We have tried to do our best in our job.

When business was suddenly halted in its recovery more than a year ago, we determined that we should keep going anyway, if not at full-volume motor car production, then at getting ready for greater motor car values that would help future production.

EXPANDING FOR THE FUTURE

We began to build 34 million dollars' worth of new plants and equipment. We felt that if we could not employ all our men building motor cars, we would employ as many as we could building better production facilities.

We were told, of course, that this was no time for expansion, that a wiser business policy would be to "hold everything"—which means, stop everything. But no one ever got anywhere standing still.

Besides, we are not defeatists. We do not believe this country has seen its best days. We believe this country is yet in the infancy of its growth. We believe that every atom of faith invested in our Country and our People will be amply justified by the future. We believe America is just beginning. Never yet have our People seen real Prosperity. Never yet have we seen adequate Production. But we shall see it! That is the assurance in which we have built.

Business is not just coming back. It will have to be brought back. That is now becoming well understood in this country; for that reason 1939 will be a co-operative year. Manufacturers, sellers and buyers will co-operate to bring back the business that is waiting to be brought back.

This construction program is almost completed. It has increased activity and payrolls in a number of related industries. It has given us better facilities for building better cars and trucks, and eventually our new tractor which is being perfected.

THIS MEANS MORE VALUE

The current program has provided a new tire plant, which will turn out a part of our tire requirements . . . a new tool and die plant that will help us cut the cost of dies . . . and a steel-press plant that will enable us to make more of our own automobile bodies. These are in addition to the plants we already had for producing glass, iron, steel, plastics, and many other things.

We don't supply all our own needs, of course, and never expect to. The Ford engine is one thing that no one's hand touches but ours. Of nearly everything else we use we build some quantity ourselves, to find, if possible, better and more economical ways of doing it. The experience and knowledge we gain are freely shared with our suppliers, and with other industries.

Henry and Edsel Ford, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Ford Motor Company, June 16, 1938

We take no profit on anything we make for ourselves and sell to ourselves. Every operation, from the Ford ships which first bring iron ore to the Rouge, is figured at accurate cost. The only profit is on the finished result—the car or truck as it comes off the line. Some years, there is no profit for us. But we see to it that our customers always profit. A basic article of our business creed is that no sale is economically constructive unless it profits the buyer as much as or more than the seller.

Our new plants have helped us build more value into all our cars for 1939. That means more profit on the purchase to the purchaser.

We have not cut quality to reduce costs.

We simply will not build anything inferior.

NEW TESTING EQUIPMENT

While we were putting up new plants to produce cars, we constructed new equipment to test them. The first weather tunnel of its kind ever built for automobile research went into operation at our laboratories this year.

It makes any kind of weather to order. The weather it delivers every day would take months to find in Nature. Our cars are weather-tested to give you good service in any climate anywhere.

In other tests, every part of the car is punished unmercifully. Then our engineers tear it down to see if they can find abnormal wear or any sign of weakness.

The money we spend on tests saves you money on repairs. And your family car is safer and more dependable when we put it in your hands.

THE NEW CARS

We have two new Ford cars for 1939—better cars and better looking—but we also have an entirely new car.

It's called the Mercury 8. It fits into our line between the De Luxe Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr. It is larger than the Ford, with 116-inch wheelbase, hydraulic brakes, and a new 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine.

We know that our 1939 cars are cars of good quality. We think they're fine values in their price classes.

With new cars, new plants, new equipment, the whole Ford organization is geared to go forward.

BOY SCOUTS

Cabin

The necessary papers, etc., have actually been signed and sealed for the Scout cabin. A group of our boys started clearing the ground off Saturday. The lot is 150x150 feet, located at the Big Spring. It was agreed that picnickers would be welcomed, if they clean up before they leave.

We do not know, as yet, when actual construction of the cabin will begin, but it won't be long.

The Boy Scouts are going to furnish most of the labor. We are to work in groups, at times each group has time to spare. We will hold our weekly meetings in the cabin when it is finished. It is a fine location for games and overnight camps.

Disasters Strike 41 States During Year

Red Cross Aids 420,000 Persons Following Catastrophes

That the past year has not been an easy one for the American Red Cross is shown in a recent report listing disasters necessitating Red Cross relief throughout the United States during the past twelve months.

The report reveals that 129 domestic disasters called for Red Cross aid in 247 counties of 41 states, and that assistance was given to 420,000 persons who were disaster victims.

"That this has been a very active year is obvious when one compares this year's operations with the average of 92 disasters requiring Red Cross aid annually for the past 15 years," Chairman Norman H. Davis said in commenting on the Red Cross Disaster Relief Service report.

These catastrophes included cloudbursts, cyclones, epidemics, fires, floods, forest fires, hailstorms, mine explosions, a school bus accident, a shipwreck, tornadoes, typhoons, and wind storms.

"Disaster relief was the first humanitarian work of the American Red Cross after its organization in 1881," Mr. Davis said. "In the ensuing 57 years the flag of the Red Cross has flown upon every scene of major disaster in the United States. The Red Cross has carried relief—food, clothing, shelter, medical aid, rehabilitation of homes and families—to more than 2,200 scenes of disaster at home and abroad, and has expended over $140,000,000 contributed by the people of the United States."

"That Certain Age" Enthralling Youth Story for Deanna Durbin

Star Given Perfect Vehicle For Newest Picture Sensation

"That Certain Age," Deanna Durbin's latest starring production, comes to the Strand Theatre Sunday and Monday.

The picture is the fourth to come from this remarkable singing youngster who has made screen history ever since she first appeared in "Three Smart Girls" some two years ago.

Cast in a supporting role in "Three Smart Girls," the production was hardly started before Universal studios realized they were in possession of a wonder-child.

Now realizing what they had, the producers next surrounded her with a cast which included the great Stokowski, Adolphe Menjou, Mischa Auer, Alice Brady and Eugene Pallette. The result has been proclaimed. "100 Men and a Girl" was one of the finest pictures ever made.

Then followed "Mad About Music," in which she had Herbert Marshall and Gail Patrick in support. Its reception surpassed even those of the previous hits in enthusiasm and acclaim.

Now comes "That Certain Age," with Deanna starring in a cast which includes Melvyn Douglas, Jackie Cooper, Irene Rich, John Halliday, Juanita Quigley, Jackie Searle, Charles Coleman, Nancy Carroll and Peggy Stewart.

In musical richness, it contains, according to advance preview reports, the same musical treat which was such an integral part of the previous offerings.

Jimmy McHugh and Harold Adamson, who have written most of Deanna's original songs for the screen, penned three numbers for the singing star. These are "My Own," "Be a Good Scout," and "You're as Pretty as a Picture." And, in addition, Deanna sings two classical selections, "Les Filles Des Cadiz," by Leo Delibes, and Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet Waltz," from the opera.

"That Certain Age" will present Deanna as a fifteen-year-old girl undergoing her first pangs of school girl romance when she falls romantically in love with a man many years her senior. The plot is more comedy than any of the previous stories, but it has the same heart-

Strand Has "Valley of the Giants"

Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor head the cast of "Valley of the Giants," the Technicolor picture based by Warner Bros. on the famous Peter B. Kyne novel of the same name, which comes to the Strand Theatre Thursday and Friday.

It is the story of the successful fight waged to prevent the utter despoliation of California's famous redwood forests by ruthless eastern lumber interests (represented by Charles Bickford) around the turn of the century.

While it is concerned with one local aspect of this fight, telling in highly exciting manner of the clash between one such despoiler and an altruistic young local lumberman, it is typical of the situation throughout the redwood country at that time.

And modern audiences will discover a curious parallel between the methods employed by the exploiters of more than thirty years ago and those of the men who have come to be known today as racketeers. Graft and corruption, legalistic trickery, and physical violence all have their part in the story, but it is the last-mentioned method that gives the new Warner picture its most thrilling moments.

The picture has two of the most hair-raising sequences ever filmed. One depicts the rescue of the heroine from a runaway freight caboose just a moment before it reaches a trestle which, with supports deliberately cut away by the villain's henchmen, collapses under the weight of four lumber-laden flat cars. The other shows a terrific battle between villain and hero atop a dam and the dynamiting of the dam.

Supporting the two stars is one of the most notable casts ever assembled for such a production, including Charles Bickford, Frank McHugh, Alan Hale, Jack LaRue, Donald Crisp, John Litel and Dick Purcell.

Chevrolet Takes Big Strides Ahead for 1939

New Aero-stream styled bodies combine with major mechanical improvements to provide new beauty, safety, comfort and operating ease, in the 1939 Chevrolets, presented October 22, and featured at the big auto shows this month. The new models are offered on two chassis, the Master De Luxe and the Master 85, both of which are powered with Chevrolet's famous six-cylinder valve-in-head engine.

A new vacuum gear shift mechanism with steering column control, optional on all models at small extra cost, does 80 per cent of the work of shifting gears. The Master De Luxe series features a new riding system, in which a brand new Chevrolet Knee-Action mechanism is scientifically co-ordinated with new ride stabilizer and double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers to furnish a smooth, soft ride.

Domestic Allotment Would Handicap Farmer Says Jones

Auburn, Ala.—A. W. Jones, Alabama's AAA administrative officer, said today that cotton farmers under a domestic allotment plan of growing cotton would be at a distinct disadvantage with other farmers of the United States. He based his statement on the export figures of the three main crops—wheat, corn, and cotton.

The domestic allotment plan has been advocated by some to replace the present AAA program. Under this plan farmers would receive a subsidy payment on that cotton consumed here in the United States and would export cotton for whatever price it would bring in an attempt to compete with the low-priced cotton of other countries.

"For the past ten years about 43 per cent of our cotton has been consumed in the United States," Jones said. "For the same period 99 per cent of the corn and 87 per cent of the wheat produced in this country has been consumed here. Therefore, it is easy to see that under a plan of subsidy on domestically consumed products that corn and wheat farmers whose products are not exported to a great extent would receive a great deal more in subsidy payments than would cotton farmers who consume less than half of the crop."

The argument made most frequently in favor of the domestic allotment plan is that it would give farmers parity prices for their domestically consumed cotton, according to Jones, who said that Alabama farmers are already getting better than parity for their 1938 domestically consumed cotton under the present program.

"If the government benefit payments made to farmers for 1938 are added to the price of the cotton used in this country, the income on the 5,615,000 bales consumed in the

RESULTS OF LITTER CONTEST SUMMARIZED

Auburn, Ala.—Results of the ton litter hog feeding work in the state, a project climaxed by the recent Ton Litter Show at Montgomery, reveal some interesting facts about hog raising, says F. W. Burns, extension animal husbandman, who is in charge of the project.

Here's the summary of results:
Number of litters qualified for show, 28; average number of pigs per litter, 9.4; average age of hogs sold, 189 days, average weight of hogs sold, 199 pounds; average feed cost per 100 pounds pork (including feed for sow during suckling period), $4.18; average selling price for all hogs, $8.60.

Alabama farmers led the South in 1937 in terracing land to protect it from erosion, figures in the AAA office at Auburn reveal. This included only farmers cooperating in the AAA program. In addition, cooperating farmers established 28,000 acres of improved pasture to care for more livestock on the farm.

Meat canning time is here again and the housewife will be interested in adding a variety of canned meats for winter meals, says Lavada Curtis, food preservation specialist of the Alabama Extension Service, who offers Alabama housewives bulletins which give instructions for different kinds of meat canning. Interested persons are advised to write Miss Curtis at Auburn.

Alabama livestock is now practically free of tuberculosis and cattle tick.

United States is 17.9 cents per pound or 1.7 cents above the present parity price."

PRESSING IMPORTANT IN CLOTHING CARE

Auburn, Ala. — Many garments can be revived by pressing with care, Catherine Haynes, extension clothing specialist, advises.

The shine from a garment can often be removed by following these simple steps: Steam and brush garments, sponge with alcohol, sponge with ammonia, then alcohol. Alcohol sponges brightens black or other dark-colored silks. Mix two table-spoonfuls of alcohol in one cup of boiling water. Allow to cool. Sponge garment and press.

When pressing wool turn on wrong side, dampen cloth, squeeze, place damp cloth on material, gently rest iron on wet cloth, moving as steam rises. Never rest full weight of iron on material because it will leave slick spots and imprints of the iron.

Silk garments should be turned on wrong side. Wet cloth, squeeze out, hang on line until almost dry. Place on material and proceed as in pressing wool.

When steaming with hot iron place iron on end, then place a wet towel over the iron, place wrong side of the pile fabric on wet cloth; move fabric and cloth about, steaming necessary parts. Pile fabrics such as velvet, plush, and coating material should be steamed. Garments may be steamed over teakettle, open tub, or with iron.

Gasoline tax collections in Alabama for the month of August amounted to $1,233,764.20. This was the largest collection ever made in one month. The next highest was for the month of July, 1937, when the collections amounted to $1,219,739.41. The next highest was in August, 1937. The total collections for that month were $1,208,252.00. The total collections for August, 1934, amounted to $834,448.91.

GIRL SCOUTS

October 31 is All Hallow's Eve, traditionally a serious and awe-inspiring day, but one which now brings to millions of young people the thought of good times and parties. October 31 is important to Americans for another reason: It is the birthday of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting in the United States. The organization which Mrs. Low began has a tremendous and serious value to this country. At the same time, to millions of girls it brings good times—healthful, constructive good times shared with happy companions.

The Girl Scouts of Montevallo are observing Girl Scout Week and Juliette Low's birthday, beginning Sunday, October 30, and continuing through Saturday, November 5. Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, Girl Scout commissioner, explains that leaders have been busy this summer making plans to offer the girls new activities, a wider range of choice and up-to-the-minute projects which have been suggested by the national organization. Girl Scout Week gives them their first chance to show the latest developments in Scouting to the citizens of Montevallo. Girl Scout homemakers learn to plan a balanced diet as well as to cook a meal outdoors; they learn to avoid accidents as well as to offer first aid; they learn to serve other children in clinics and day nurseries as well as to have fun themselves. The parade of today's Girl Scouting has a place for Brownie Scouts, the little girls from seven to ten years old; Girl Scouts, from ten to fourteen years old, and the Senior Girl Scouts from fourteen to eighteen years old.

Mrs. Vaughan reports that the numbers in all classifications are increasing; leaders are needed for the many additional girls who are eager to live by the Girl Scout code. Our young people are clamoring for membership in an organization which trains for good citizenship and sane living. We can honor Juliette Low by getting acquainted with the Girl Scouts this week and helping them to further their work.

MARVELS THAT KEEP YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE DEPENDABLE

No. 7 of a Series

Rough Stuff

IN A football game, it's the referee's job to keep the game going smoothly and to prevent, so far as possible, "rough stuff" from developing.

In the operation of a dependable electric light and power system, such as that of Alabama Power Company, it's impossible to have a referee who can prevent Nature's "rough stuff," but the referee can prevent the "rough stuff" from causing more than a temporary interference with the smooth and dependable flow of electric service.

In this business we call that referee the "oil circuit breaker," one of which you see in the picture. The oil circuit breaker is the aristocrat of the same family to which the ordinary fuse in your home belongs. Should "rough stuff" develop in your household wiring from some cause, the fuse "blows out" and thus warns you that an abnormal condition exists and prevents damage from that condition. When Nature starts her "rough stuff," the oil circuit breaker—whose mechanism automatically opens connections submerged in oil—cuts off the circuit and "stops the game" until the abnormal condition can be eliminated.

The oil circuit breaker in the picture is capable of stopping 2 million horsepower of "rough stuff" in about 1/10 of a second! On Alabama Power Company lines are thousands of oil circuit breakers of various sizes to help keep your electric service dependable. They are among the many other marvels which private industry has developed to make electric service cheap and dependable without the aid of extravagant tax-eating "emergency" governmental grants and subsidies.

Dr. Fred B. Pearson Addresses A Friendly Message to The Citizens of Montevallo

My dear Fellow-Citizens:

Last week I made a public appeal to the business men of our town to keep their business on a high level of idealism and righteousness. I trust that I am not presumptuous now in suggesting that we citizens encourage them to do so by showing our appreciation and by our cooperation with them. We must not forget that we have a responsibility to all worthy institutions and enterprises in our community, and that includes the business institutions that serve us in a commercial way.

"Business" is not simply a cold, calculating thing whose only object is profits. Business transactions are intensely human, and they have a moral and spiritual quality which we are too prone to forget. Our relationship with the businessmen is more than a purely business one. They are not "profiteers," seeking only for our trade, but they have shown in many ways that they have a personal interest in us and in the well-being of the community. They are seeking to make a living for themselves and their families through their business, as the rest of us do through our work or vocations. They are serving the community in a very vital way and they have every right to fair profits that will protect them and their businesses.

Perhaps many of us need to examine ourselves as to our attitudes. Perhaps some of us need to confess that we have sometimes been wrong in our attitudes and unreasonable in our expectations. We may have been too critical and unfair in our judgments, because we did not understand the problems and difficulties of the businessman. Have we tried to put ourselves in the businessman's place and see the whole community life from his viewpoint? Have we tried seriously to apply the Golden Rule in our business relationships? If not, let us try it now.

What does the merchant want of us? He wants our good will and our cooperation. He wants our trade. He wants us to "trade at home." He is right in wanting that. So long as he is fair in his prices and keeps his business on a high moral level he has every right to expect us to trade with him. The attitude that "it is nobody's business where I trade" is carrying our individualism too far—beyond the interests of the community of which we are a part. A high type, prosperous community cannot be built on that sort of "rugged individualism." The prosperity of the community depends very largely on the success and prosperity of its business people—just as its moral tone depends very largely on the moral ideals of its business people.

Let us be fair. Let us consider seriously the businessman's claim to our business. Let us examine his goods and his prices and give him a chance at our business. In helping him we shall be helping ourselves and our whole community. Let us be frank with our friends, for they want to serve us, and I believe we can depend on them to be absolutely fair with us. They will be grateful for any criticism, I am sure, if we make them to the right persons and in the right spirit. Let us tell them if there is anything wrong. Let us support them as they undertake to keep their business on a basis of honesty and righteousness.

With the hope and prayer that ured by the American public in this work of mercy."

The Red Cross policies of relief, the national chairman pointed out, have been established over a period of years through actual experience of its workers in the field. Relief is given on the basis of need of sufferers—not of losses. Loans, he pointed out, are never made, but relief is a gift from the Red Cross in the name of its members and contributors to its work.

"It would not be possible for the Red Cross to carry out such widespread relief activities without the help of thousands of volunteer workers," Mr. Davis said. "Volunteers are the mainstay of the organization, and in the past year's work assistance from many cooperating agencies has made it possible for us to answer the many calls for help."

While relief was being given to victims of natural catastrophes, the Red Cross was not unmindful of the necessity for preparedness plans to meet emergencies that may arise in any American community. Red Cross chapters in hundreds of counties have organized disaster preparedness committees charged with responsibility to map relief plans in advance of need, and to organize resources of communities to prevent duplication of effort and waste of materials when calls for help are received.

These plans are proving especially advantageous in localities subject to frequent floods, tornadoes, or hurricanes, and actual tests of such planning have demonstrated the necessity for such measures.

"The administration of such relief for disaster victims is made possible by annual memberships of millions of Americans in all walks of life," Mr. Davis pointed out. "The extent of Red Cross aid to such sufferers is entirely dependent upon unselfish sharing on the part of all of us."

Mrs. Guy H. DeShazo is spending this week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harris, of Plantersville.

GIVHAN PROPERTY APPROVED FOR NEGRO SCHOOL SITE

Announcement has been made to the effect that the location for the new negro school in Montevallo has been approved for the Givhan property across the creek from the Warrior water plant.

Following this announcement the negroes of Montevallo promptly carried out their plans for raising the money to finance the deal and after a rally Sunday the trustees went to the bank and deposited the money necessary to pay for the new school site.

It is understood from county school superintendent, J. L. Appleton, that deeds to the property will be made promptly by Mr. Pete Givhan, after which plans for erecting the new school building will be put into operation.

Present appropriations provide for a three-room building. A larger building is needed, and there may be an effort locally to raise the extra money required to secure the additional room.

DAVIS NAMES NEW DEPARTMENT HEAD

Auburn, Ala.—Lyle Brown, for the last eight years forester of the Alabama Extension Service, has been appointed commercial horticulture specialist, effective November 1, announces P. O. Davis, director. Mr. Brown will work with agriculture workers and farmers in a movement to develop the commercial horticultural possibilities of the state.

He will make a study of all truck and fruit crops which might be adapted to sale and shipment and will advise and work with farmers in a program to plant, grow, grade and pack successfully these products for state and outside markets. In other words, according to Mr. Davis, Brown will not devote his time to the mere growing of the crops, but will work equally as much in the marketing of them.

Brown was born and reared in Choctaw County. A graduate of Auburn in 1920, where he specialized in horticulture, he has served for two years as assistant horticulturist of the Alabama Extension Service and the Alabama Experiment Station, and for eight years was horticultural specialist of the Mississippi Extension Service. His successor as extension forester has not been named.

W. A. Ruffin, present horticulture and entomology specialist of the Extension Service, will continue to work on home gardens and orchards and insect control, according to Mr. Davis, who says that the appointment of a commercial horticulture specialist is the inauguration of a four-point program for Alabama agriculture. The four points which the Extension Service will push are production of more food to make farms self-sustaining; increase the poultry and livestock side of farming; additional cash crops should be grown where growing and marketing conditions are favorable; and truck crops should be further developed in those sections adapted to this type of farming.

ALABAMA TOWN, MAYORLESS MONTH IS GIVEN OFFICIAL

Hammondsville, Ala. — This DeKalb County town had a municipal government Thursday after a lapse of a month—a lapse of which many citizens apparently were unaware.

The town's predicament, which, however, had caused no great concern, was called to the attention of Gov. Bibb Graves by Representative R. L. (Rube) Tolbert, and the executive remedied the situation.

Tolbert wrote the governor the Baptist Church

At the Sunday morning service the pastor will speak on "Peace." At 7:30 p.m. Dr. Irwin T. Sanders, of the Alabama College faculty, will speak on "The Religious Life of the Balkan States." Dr. Sanders has spent much time in the Balkans, especially in Bulgaria, and is thoroughly familiar with all phases of life there. Those who have heard him speak on other phases of Balkan life will surely want to hear him again. We invite all to hear him Sunday evening. It is particularly fitting that we should know about the religious life of these countries, in view of the persecution which our Baptist people, and doubtless other Protestant groups, are suffering just now, especially in Roumania.

Sunday School meets at 9:45 a.m. and the Baptist Training Union at 6:45 p.m.

STUDENT EDITORS WILL HEAR RAYMOND CLAPPER

The editors and business managers of the Technala and The Alabamian, student publications of Alabama College, will listen to the "Confessions" of Raymond Clapper, outstanding Washington columnist, at the Associated Collegiate Press convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, November 3-5. The delegates are Pattie Upchurch, editor of The Alabamian; Margaret Hannah Haslam, business manager; Frances Truman, editor of the Technala; and Margaret Timmerman, business manager.

town had proceeded under terms of a 1937 law under which municipalities between 2,000 and 15,000 population must hold an election every four years.

The representative pointed out, however, Hammondsville had less than 2,000 citizens and should elect every two years—that is, an election should have been held about a month ago.

At Tolbert's suggestion, Graves appointed officials whose terms legally expired last month to serve until an election may be held. They are W. B. Hammond, mayor, and R. W. Chadwick, J. P. Carmichael, P. G. Shankles, L. H. Hixon and H. M. Lyons, aldermen.

Farm families selling at 15 curb markets operating in Alabama during September received $29,799.46 for their products. This brings the total amount received for products sold on the markets thus far in 1938 to $280,936.06, says Helen Johnston, state home demonstration agent.

Alabama College Receives New Building Fund

A New Dormitory and Classroom Space Made Possible By Allotment

It was announced from Washington last Saturday that PWA grants amounting to $153,603 and loans totaling $175,000 have been made to Alabama College, providing two new buildings and additions to two others on the college campus.

President A. F. Harman states that the new buildings will be a dormitory occupying the space between Hanson and Ramsay; a classroom and office building a short distance north of Bloch Hall and to the left of the driveway leading to the President's Home.

Historic Reynolds Hall, built in 1851, and used by a seminary before Alabama College was founded, will be enlarged and remodeled to provide a student union building. The library will be given an addition to increase the book capacity to 80,000 volumes.

"At its May meeting the Board of Trustees approved a minimum building program of $600,000, recommended by the President to relieve a trying situation at Alabama College," Dr. Harman said.

"After careful study of our situation, however, the administration has decided that this institution is unable to finance a program involving more than $342,000, which we have obtained.

"Construction of dormitory and classroom buildings will relieve a serious condition on this campus. We have had so many students living three in a room that a new residence for 102 will increase normal living accommodations by only 50 students.

"The new classroom and office building will relieve an equally serious problem of instruction. It is expected that actual construction of the two new buildings will begin before January 1."

In commenting upon the allotments made to the college by PWA in Washington, Dr. Harman stated his appreciation of the loyal help and support accorded by the entire Alabama congressional delegation in behalf of the institution.

Next Saturday Is The Big Event Day

Next Saturday, November 12, is the big event of the trade day series which is sponsored by the merchants of Montevallo. There will be a number of prizes awarded which will be of extra attraction to people who come to buy.

For this occasion the merchants have been offering some special values for the past two weeks. These will continue through Saturday, giving to everyone who buys at the participating stores an opportunity to share in the awards.

Merchants of Montevallo are anxious to help the people of this territory in every way possible to get the best value for every dollar they spend. They want your business and your friendship, and want you to come to Montevallo to trade.

The stores participating in the big event for next Saturday say, "There are many savings awaiting you in Montevallo. Come any time. We are always glad to see you and glad to serve you. Bring the whole family, and be sure to be in Montevallo for the big event next Saturday, November 12."

DEMOCRATS WIN ALL COUNTY OFFICES

P. M. Fancher Died Friday Morning

Funeral Rites Held For Montevallo Citizen; Was 82 Years Old

Pleasant Miller Fancher, age 82, died at his home in Montevallo at 4 o'clock last Friday morning, following an illness of several months. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the Montevallo Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. F. B. Pearson. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Rogan in charge. Pallbearers were Walter M. Shaw, Fred H. Frost, C. H. Fore, Richard Trader, J. E. Holder, and M. R. Tate.

Mr. Fancher is survived by his widow, Mrs. Cahaba Fancher; four sons, R. M. Fancher, Underwood; D. W. Fancher, Tuscaloosa; Alex D. Fancher, Birmingham; and G. F. Fancher, Tarrant City; six daughters, Mrs. Renna Killingsworth, Montevallo; Mrs. A. J. Wells, Piper; Mrs. H. S. McKinney, Harmony, Minn.; Mrs. A. Z. East, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. Grady Carter, Montevallo, and Miss Beatrice Fancher, Montevallo. There are 19 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

He was born and reared in Bibb County, but had lived in Montevallo for the past 32 years. He was a member of Montevallo Baptist Church and was one of the community's most beloved citizens.

Drive Chairmen Are Named For County

In Montevallo Mrs. James Higgins will be in charge of the town and Miss Elizabeth Conn will direct the Red Cross drive in the college.

Mrs. A. Z. Cowart will direct the drive in Calera.

The Aldrich co-chairman are Mr. Percy Lemley and Mrs. Hazel Brill.

In Boothton Mr. Clarence Booth is assisting with the drive.

In Camp Branch the Home Demonstration Club under the direction of Mrs. Andrew Davis and Miss Clara Crim will be in charge.

Albert Jacob Rowser, Principal of the Calera Colored School, will direct the drive in the Negro communities of Calera, Newala, Longview, and South Calera.

Mrs. W. E. Kirkpatrick, president of the Dogwood P. T. A., will be assisted by the entire Parent-Teachers Association in the drive.

The drive in Siluria will be taken care of by the teachers in the public schools.

The eastern section of the county will be taken care of by Mr. Karl Harrison and Mrs. Lena Merrell.

Armistice Celebration Planned By Legion

Dr. Harman Will be Speaker At Exercises Friday Morning At Eleven O'Clock

Featuring the Armistice Day exercises at Palmer Hall tomorrow will be an address by Dr. A. F. Harman, president of Alabama College.

The program will begin at 11 o'clock, with two numbers by the Montevallo High School Band, Mr. York Kildea directing.

Invocation will be by Rev. D. Z. Woolley, a Spanish-American War veteran.

An appropriate number by the Speech Chorus of Alabama College is arranged by Miss Ellen-Haven Gould.

Recognition will be made of the Gold Star mothers of this community.

County Superintendent of Education, J. L. Appleton, will make a short talk on behalf of the American Legion and the Auxiliary, and will introduce President Harman for the main address of the program.

After Mr. Harman's speech the program will conclude with the audience singing "America," the pledge to the flag, and benediction by Rev. Woolley.

The program has been arranged by Hendrick-Hudson Post of the Legion and Auxiliary. The celebration of Armistice Day this year will be harmonized with the observance of American Education Week. "Education for Tomorrow's America" is the nation-wide topic. The subject of Dr. Harman's address will be related to this topic.

The purpose of the Legion, in addition to patriotic motives celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the Armistice, is to focus public attention upon the schools of America.

Armistice is a legal holiday, and all stores in Montevallo will be closed. A most urgent invitation is extended to everyone to attend the program at Palmer Hall. The Legion and Auxiliary are glad to have the privilege of presenting Dr. Harman for the address of the day, and they want everyone in the community to hear him.

The High School will attend the program in a body. After noon the school's football team will engage in a game with Isabella High School, beginning at 1:15. Classes at the college will be dismissed at 11 o'clock to give faculty and students an opportunity to attend the exercises.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held next Thursday, November 17, at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner. Commander W. M. Wyatt, of Hendrick-Hudson Post of the American Legion, will be the speaker on the program.

Plans For Red Cross Drive Completed

Plans have been made for the participation of Shelby County in the annual membership drive of the National Red Cross November 11-24. Miss Myrtle Brooke, of Montevallo, is directing the local chapter's drive. Mrs. James B. Higgins is chairman for Montevallo.

Membership in the National Red Cross is one dollar, of which fifty cents is sent to national headquarters, and fifty cents is retained by the county for relief services. Other memberships range from five dollars to five hundred dollars.

The National Red Cross is part of the international organization which has distinguished itself by its extensive humanitarian work during such calamities as war, flood, famine and distress.

In this country the work of the Red Cross is notable through flood, drought, earthquake and tornado relief. This was accomplished through the emergency relief funds and was supplemented with unemployment relief, rural organization, financial, legal and medical advice through the Red Cross Home Service Division.

The work of the National Red Cross is based on working units made up of chapters in the counties of the United States. Last year Shelby County had a total membership of 202. This year the drive will open on Armistice Day and extend through Thanksgiving.

Sixty Guests Attend Banquet

On Monday evening, November 7, sixty guests assembled in the Methodist Church parlors at the invitation of the local branch of the Business and Professional Women's Club, partaking of a delicious banquet and mingling together in a spirit of good fellowship. The occasion was the annual Public Relations dinner.

Representatives were present from the American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Civic Club, the college, U. D. C., Studiosis, American Association of University Women, and Montevallo Study Club. Business and Professional Women were present not only from the local club, but from Columbiana, Montgomery, and Selma.

Miss Lelah Brownfield, local president, made the address of welcome, after which Mrs. Stanley Mahan, chairman of the banquet committee, introduced the representatives of the various local organizations, the out of town visitors, and the guests of honor.

Mrs. Carrie Andrews, state president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, stated the aims of the club and expressed her appreciation of the work being done by the local organization. She mentioned the fact that Miss Lelah Brownfield, Dr. Minnie Steckel, and Dr. Hallie Farmer are all members of the State Board of Directors, which, incidentally, is meeting in Montgomery Saturday, November 12. Several members from Montevallo will be attending this as well as the district meeting which follows on Sunday, November 13.

Mrs. Ruth McInnis, regional co-chairman, from Charleston, South Carolina, will be the guest of honor.

Representatives of Order Are Entertained By Members of Montevallo Tribe

The North Alabama District Convention of the Improved Order of Red Men, held here last Saturday afternoon, brought about 300 visitors to Montevallo from about 25 tribes throughout the northern section of the state. In addition to the visiting Red Men, there were about fifty representatives of the Degree of Pocahontas.

Great Council officers in attendance were Great Sachem, F. H. Vernon, who is a member of Wauhoma Tribe, at Montevallo; Great Chief of Records, M. D. Friedman, of Birmingham; and Great Keeper of Wampum, Mixon, of Birmingham; Mrs. Seals, Great Pocahontas, who presided over the convention session.

The council assembled at 2:30 p.m. at the Legion Hut and heard an impressive welcome address by Mayor Charles T. Acker.

The business session consumed all the afternoon, in which reports were heard from all councils and tribes represented. These reports indicate that the order is enjoying an unprecedented growth in membership throughout the reservation of Alabama.

About six o'clock the visitors were entertained by Wauhoma Tribe at a feast of corn and venison. There followed a public meeting at which Hon. Frank S. Andress, past Great Sachem, of Birmingham, was the speaker.

The address of Mr. Andress dealt largely with the patriotic motives (Continued on back page)

Elite Night Program Is Gala Affair

Forty students of Alabama College formed a gorgeous parade of talent and beauty Tuesday night as they passed in review across the stage of Palmer Hall in the annual Elite Night presentation sponsored by the staff of the Technala, student annual yearbook.

Every superlative of beauty and charm was portrayed by these lovely misses as they looked their prettiest and smiled their sweetest in the effort to capture the various college honors.

And oh, what a task they gave the judges to decide who were the winners! Doubtless there were many spectators who will not agree with the decisions made; and in fact the judges themselves were not so sure of themselves in their choice.

The following were candidates for college beauties: Freshmen: Annie Boyd Parker, Virginia Boykin, Julia Jones, Rebecca Beeland. Sophomores: Alice Elizabeth Mims, Helen Hope Balch, Margaret Reddoch, Marguerite Tillman. Juniors: Martha Corbin, Mary Creel, Vandalyn Lazenby, Louise Cain. Seniors: Faith Russell, Eloise Carlisle, Alline Holmes, Nell McKemie.

Four of these were selected, and they will be pictured in the Technala as the college beauties. Announcement of names of the four chosen will be made by the Technala staff.

Candidates for the elite were as follows:

Errol Flynn and Bette Davis Score Hit in "The Sisters"

Teamed together for the first time in their sensational success—full careers, Errol Flynn and Bette Davis come to the screen of the Strand Theatre Sunday and Monday in Warner Bros. lavishly produced film version of one of the biggest selling novels of recent years, "The Sisters," by Myron Brinig.

Besides the two great stars in the leading roles, the cast of "The Sisters" boasts a really breath-taking array of names. The two sisters of Miss Davis are portrayed by Anita Louise and Jane Bryan, their parents are played by Henry Travers and Beulah Bondi, and other important roles are filled by Ian Hunter, Donald Crisp, Dick Foran, Patric Knowles, Lee Patrick and Laura Hope Crews.

As the readers of the novel will recall, the story is concerned with the fortunes of three beautiful sisters who start their lives in a small Montana town, and most of the interest is centered about the brave struggle for happiness of the eldest sister, played by Miss Davis.

Only the youngest remains in the town where she was born, content with a humdrum existence as the wife of a dull, but prosperous banker. The second girl, who is the family beauty, makes a career of marrying for money and position, and she does well at it, becoming a cosmopolitan person of the really ultra sort as she casually changes from one husband to another.

The oldest girl, however, falls in love with a charming newspaperman played by Errol Flynn, who is afflicted with itching feet and has little of the will-power necessary to get ahead in the world. Moving to San Francisco, she is eventually deserted by her wandering husband on the very eve of the great earthquake and fire of 1906.

The great catastrophe of 1906 as experienced and witnessed by the deserted wife is exciting and impressively depicted in the film, but no one sequence in the picture is likely to excite as much interest in audiences as the fidelity and naturalness with which the spirit and trappings of a period that is but recent history has been recaptured in "The Sisters."

Fredric March and Virginia Bruce Merry Stars

Frederic March and Virginia Bruce romp through the merriest adventures of the year in "There Goes My Heart," Hal Roach's gay comedy romance, at the Strand Thursday and Friday.

The story casts Virginia as a mad-cap heiress who tries to run out on her fortune and March as a reporter who tries to run out on his boss.

Virginia gives up her yacht for a job in a bargain basement and finds a new world full of walk-up apartments, kind-hearted salesgirls and eccentric motormen.

Then into her life roams the roving reporter and the pair have a barrel of fun eating hamburgers, visiting skating rinks, riding in the subway—and falling in love.

The new streamlined Patsy Kelly heads the supporting cast as the electric vibrator demonstrator who befriends the poor little rich girl, and versatile Alan Mowbray has one of his maddest roles as Patsy's subway motorman sweetheart, who works all night and studies chiropractic by day.

Nancy Carroll returns to the screen in an important featured role, while others who are prominently cast are Eugene Pallette, Etienne Girardot, Claude Gillingwater and Arthur Lake.

SUGG WILL WORK ON HOG PROGRAM

Auburn, Ala.—P. O. Davis, director of the Alabama Extension Service, this week announced reorganization of the livestock work in the department to make livestock work with farmers in the state more effective.

To balance the organization set-up and to make work more effective, Dr. R. S. Sugg, extension livestock specialist has been placed in charge of all hog work in addition to beef cattle and sheep. F. W. Burns, who has been working on both dairy cattle and hogs, will devote his time to dairying alone, the importance of which requires the full time of a specialist.

In announcing the shift in responsibilities, Mr. Davis said that it divides the work between milk and meat animals and will result in more hogs which are entitled, he added to a "much bigger place on Alabama farms."

Taking the state as a whole, hogs offer, as Mr. Davis sees them, a major opportunity for adding cash to cotton money. In every county farmers are being told by county agents how to grow hogs profitably. The profitable method is based upon better use of land not in cotton by making pastures and feed crops for hogs to graze and eat.

Dr. Sugg is widely known as an authority on hog raising, as well as beef cattle and sheep. He has had experience as county agents as well as extension specialist. He will work with county agents and farmers throughout the state in developing and improving livestock programs.

The referendum to be held on December 10 will be very similar to the one held last March 12. Voting places will be selected by the county AAA committee and all farmers who grew cotton this year are eligible to vote on whether they want marketing quotas in 1939.

COTTON SITUATION DEMANDS BETTER PRICE ADJUSTMENT

Auburn, Ala.—The present carry-over of cotton, the amount that is going into the loan this year, and the decreased foreign and domestic consumption present a dark picture for southern cotton growers unless continued effort is made to bring the supply and demand more in line, believes P. O. Davis, director of the Alabama Extension Service.

A large supply naturally means a low price and the supply this year, made up of a carry over of 13.7 million bales and the current crop of 12 million bales makes hopes for a better price any time soon very dark, he stated. The carryover is the largest on record and is larger than the world consumption of cotton last year. This does not even consider the present crop now almost gathered.

"To really see the effects of low consumption following a year when there was no production control and a record cotton crop one only needs to look at the August 1, 1938, carryover which, because of these things, was more than seven million bales larger than the previous year."

In 1936, the director said, after three years of cotton adjustment effort, the supply had been adjusted from 13,000,000 bales to 6,000,000 bales and the price had risen from five cents in 1932 to 13 cents in 1936. With no allotments and no quotas on cotton production and with a large crop in 1937, we again have a huge surplus of cotton that only loans have prevented from going to 1932 prices. Since it took three years to reach the position we were in during 1936, it seems safe to assume that it will take more than one year of adjustment efforts to bring this surplus down and the price up to a fair level.

RUFFIN EXPLAINS PECAN TROUBLES

Auburn, Ala.—Pecan aphids and pecan scab, an insect and a disease, were blamed by W. A. Ruffin, extension entomologist of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, for the large number of pecan trees over all the state becoming completely defoliated so early this fall.

Ruffin said it is very likely that these two were also responsible for the low yield of pecans this year and the dropping of immature nuts. There has been a steady decrease in pecan prospects since August.

Some trees in the state completely lost their leaves early in the summer and have practically a complete new crop of foliage at the present time. Due to favorable weather conditions for the development of the aphid as well as the scab, these two enemies have caused serious damage this year. The aphid when feeding on leaves, causes them to turn brown and fall prematurely. The scab also attacks leaves but is more likely to attack the nuts, causing the shuck to turn black and fall before maturing, according to Ruffin.

Recent experiments of the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that pecan scab can be controlled by spraying with Bordeaux mixture. Ruffin says that the spraying equipment for covering large trees is very expensive and it is not practical for a farmer with a few trees to attempt this schedule of spraying. Commercial growers or groups of small grove owners who wish to work cooperatively may obtain de-

CURB MARKETS SELL ALABAMA PRODUCTS

Auburn, Ala. — Alabama's curb markets located in key towns over the state, which did business amounting to $280,936.46 during the first nine months of 1938 provide a market for practically every farm and home product of Alabama, says Helen Johnston, state home demonstration agent. Here's what Alabama home demonstration women and farmers brought to the curb markets in September and early October:

Butter, eggs, buttermilk, peas, butterbeans, egg plants, okra, turnips and turnip greens, sweet potatoes, pears, apples, pomegranates, peppers, flowers, syrup, pepper sauce, honey, candy, cottage cheese, cakes, doughnuts, cookies, jellies, pickles, relishes, pear mincemeat, meal, cushaws, smocks, aprons, sun-suits, organdy flowers, corn, tomatoes, snapbeans, spinach, onions, collards, fryers, dressed hens, home-cured meats, hominy, sugarcane, rutabagas, scuppernongs, Irish potatoes, potted plants, and other products.

4-H CLUBS HELP PRESERVE FORESTS

Auburn, Ala.—One of the most important moves yet taken by conservation forces in Alabama is the project of county agents and 4-H club leaders who are attacking the woods fire problem by securing community agreements against this destructive practice.

Beginning this month a large number of counties are sponsoring this activity through 4-H clubs and club leaders who are organizing to secure as nearly as possible 100 per cent pledges of local landowners and tenants to help fight fires to the finish. This is placed on a community basis as this is the unit on which such matters must eventually be thrashed out.

COMMENDING OUR BOYS

The editor of The Times is impressed by the number of expressions we have heard from leading citizens of Montevallo commending the boys of the town for their behavior on Hallowe'en night.

We are glad to join in this commendation of our youthful and energetic swains because it is indeed pleasing to note that our town was in its usual order the next morning, rather than strewn about with wreckage.

We are glad that our rising generation has learned that boys can be boys without being rowdy and tearing up the town upon every occasion of celebration.

Mention is frequently made nowadays of the fact that boys of our time are orderly, polite, courteous, and seldom given to rowdiness that annoys the community. This is a wholesome sign. It gives evidence that the many movements for up-building and elevation of the character of youth are succeeding to a marked degree.

Every substantial, pace-loving citizen finds gratification in the evidences of good character that come from the boys of today. No one would deny a boy the opportunity to be a boy. Everyone, however, is glad that our boys have found out how they can celebrate, have a good time, and give expression to their youthful enthusiasm without annoying other people and tearing up the town.

CHILTON GOES REPUBLICAN

News from over the hill Wednesday morning tells us that our neighbor county of Chilton has gone back to the Republican party. It is said that every Democratic candidate in Tuesday's election lost by margins of 200 to 500 votes.

Chilton is rated as traditionally Republican. A few years ago enough of the Republicans voted Democratic to place the county in the Democratic column. President Roosevelt carried the county, thereby being the first Democratic presidential candidate to do so in forty-some-odd years.

Many will seek an explanation why the Democrats did not hold the ground they gained. The answer is easy. The Democrats who were elected wasted their success and their opportunity to continue successful by discord in their own party ranks.

Money was substituted for principles, it is reported, and we are inclined to believe the report is true. Personal political grudges were allowed to actuate the motives of officeholders one against the other, instead of the common interests of all the people of the county.

Money is more flexible than principles. The dollar is an illusive thing. Now you have it, now you don't. Some men can take a dollar bill, twist it into a wad, break it in two, unfold the parts, and hand you a complete dollar bill for each part, thus making two dollars where there was only one (apparently).

No telling what may happen in politics, religion, family, or anywhere, when money becomes the balance of power and the guiding influence. A balance should be stable, and money is not that.

There is some reason for the guess that money had a big part in swinging the Republican victory in Chilton County Tuesday. If so, it will not be long until something else will happen.

A county is in a helluva fix when determination of its election of public officials is made by the crowd that will pay the most money to swing the victory.

It makes politics plumb disgusting—and we come to this conclusion again—we are glad we are not in politics any more.

The Catholic population of the United States was 20,959,134 in 1936 according to the official Catholic Directory.

Gov. Graves Issues Proclamation

Whereas, the drama of Armistice Day in 1918 need not be re-enacted for those who served in the World War for deeply etched in the memories of soldier, sailor, and marine, the scenes of that day will remain clear, and

Whereas, November 11, 1938, will mark the twentieth anniversary of Armistice Day. During those two decades the American Legion and its Auxiliaries in Alabama have enjoyed a splendid growth and from the American Legion's humanitarian program through the years has come a rich contribution toward the betterment of community, state and nation; and

Whereas, it is singularly appropriate that the 1938-39 program of the American Legion will be for "enduring peace;" and

Whereas, these sincere efforts, carried forward by those who know first-hand the meaning of war, will find a happy well merited response throughout the State of Alabama;

Now, therefore, I Bibb Graves, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby designate and proclaim the week of November 4th to 11th, 1938, as American Legion Week, and urge the citizens of Alabama to give their cooperation to the American Legion in its movement and educational program "for enduring peace."

In witness whereof, I have hereunder set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed. Done at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, this the 14th day of October in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-eight.

ATTENDS BEAUTY SHOW

Mrs. Stanley Mahan, of the Mahan Barber and Beauty Shop, attended the South Central Beauty Show in Birmingham Tuesday. She reports that she saw the latest hair-do's, all of which indicated that the machineless permanent is still leading. The show included many demonstrations of permanent waves, facials, scalp treatments, etc., all of which were witnessed with great interest. "The upper trend in hair dressing is here to stay," said Mrs. Mahan, "as evidenced by the popularity of the demonstrations along this line."

FOOTBALL

Montevallo invaded Siluria intent on revenge last Friday afternoon and while they were not able to win, they held Siluria to a 12-12 tie.

Siluria scored on a line play in the latter part of the first quarter—failed to convert. The second quarter was uneventful as far as scoring was concerned. Montevallo scored in the first part of the third quarter when Dement went over the center of the line from the one yard line. The place kick was blocked. Montevallo came back in the latter part of the third quarter when Vaughan tossed a touchdown pass to C. Harrison. A power play failed to convert the extra point. Siluria in the last two minutes of the game, ran a touchdown on a reverse end run by Kent. The extra point failed to materialize.

Outstanding players for Montevallo were in the backfield, Donald Vaughan, Raymond Lovelady and Robert Dement. In the line were Charles Harrison, Raymond Bearden, and Edmund Tony.

Players who starred for Siluria were Warren Kent and George Miller in the backfield, with Punk Graham and Earl Duke in the line. Montevallo will play Isabella here on Friday, November 11, at 1:15.

JOSEPHINE MARIE DAVIS

Funeral services for Josephine Marie Davis, age 10 years, were held at Montevallo Baptist Church at 3 p.m. Wednesday, November 9. Interment was in Montevallo cemetery with Jeter in charge.

County Agent's Letter

Dear Friend:

We have secured the help of Dr. C. I. Harkins, veterinarian of Sylacauga, for a series of work-stock clinics to be held over the county, according to the schedule below.

At these clinics, special attention will be given to correcting teeth trouble, treatment for bots, and castration of colts, with examination of animals for any other ailments.

Bots is probably one of the worst troubles of work-stock. The animal shows such symptoms as impaired appetite, pale mucous membrane, sometimes intermittent attacks of colic, and becomes thin and unthrifty.

The fees for these treatments are very reasonable and I hope our people will take advantage of these clinics to have their horses and mules conditioned.

Looking forward to seeing you at the clinic in your community, I am very truly yours,—A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

Hundreds of old grads, parents and friends returned to celebrate the twentieth annual homecoming, making it the largest to be held in Chillicothe.

RED MEN MEETING HELD HERE

Boston Tea Party

"The infamous Stamp Act saddled upon the Colonies by Great Britain in 1765 brought into existence the organization of the secret society known as 'Sons of Liberty,' from which sprang the Improved Order of Red Men. Their motto at that time was Freedom.

"The first outward sign of these Red Men was during the month of December, 1774, when dressed in the garb of Mohawk Indians, they suddenly came out of apparently nowhere, and boarded the three ships loaded with British tea, and dumped overboard into the bay 342 chests filled with tea. When the job was finished they as quickly and silently disappeared from the scene. At their hiding place these Red Men soon changed their Indian garb and were within a short time again mixing and mingling with the crowds on the streets and byways. Officers in Boston, Massachusetts, were unable to find a single one of these Indians.

"Leading patriots of that day were members of the Sons of Liberty, including George Washington, our first president. Today President Roosevelt is a member of the Improved Order of Red Men. It is the oldest purely American secret organization.

"Freedom, Friendship and Charity' is its motto now, and every member must be a citizen of the United States, a believer in the Great Spirit, and have a reputable means of making a living. No Negroes are members.

"Red Men is one of the largest secret organizations in the United States, and the membership is growing in Alabama. Mulga Tribe, organized in May, has a membership of more than 100. The newest Tribe at Dolomite has on its rolls 94 and six applicants awaiting the committee's report."

Choice of the elite in each of these groups will be determined by votes of seniors, sophomores and juniors.

In its order and appointment the program was beautiful and impressive. Arrangement was by Birdie Margaret Moorer and Louise Phagan.

Miss Gladys Fuller read the parts which were individually appropriate in introduction and presentation of the different contestants.

Music was in charge of Geraldine Camp, Eva Love Wyatt and Margaret Hannah Haslam.

A lovely stage setting was designed by Miss Virginia Boykin, freshman major in art, and arranged by Mary Diamond, Madie Belle Ward, Vandalyen Lazenby and Elizabeth Stanley.

Lighting was in charge of Virginia Ingram and Sara Hewell.

SHELBY COUNTY PLANS RED CROSS DRIVE

Citizens of Shelby County are again being given the opportunity to participate in the annual nationwide Red Cross drive scheduled for November 11 through Thanksgiving. The success of the drive depends on the cooperation and efforts of every man, woman, and child in the county. Each one has a definite place to fill. Watch for further details which will be announced periodically in local and county newspapers. Let's all work together to show the state and national Red Cross chapters that Shelby County is wide awake and ready for action.

MARVELS THAT KEEP YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE DEPENDABLE

No. 8 of a Series

STAR ATTRACTION

See the Hero Foil the Villain!

IF YOU reside in a thinly-settled suburban or rural neighborhood, and are one of the persons whose spines tingle with a thrill when the hero saves "Little Nell" from the clutches of the villain, you'll get a "kick" from learning about the "hero" of this advertisement.

Your hero's name is Repeater Fuse, a southern-born gentleman with three lives, employed by Alabama Power Company engineers and one of the many items of electrical equipment "made in Alabama."

For the villain of our little melodrama we have Nature, transformed into a witch, who, in occasional whimsical mood, fleetingly flicks at some of the rural lines of Electra, the heroine, striving to put her handyman, Reddy Kilowatt, out of commission and annoy you (and us) with an unnecessary interruption to your dependable electric service.

That's when your hero, Repeater Fuse, steps into the play to foil the villain, giving all three of his lives to do so, if necessary. Here's how Repeater Fuse plays his part:

The villain causes a momentary abnormal surge of power over the wires, along which Repeater Fuse is stationed as sentry. This surge is intercepted by one of the fingers you see in the picture holding one of your hero's lives, technically known as cartridge fuses. There is a report, as of a gunshot, and one of Repeater Fuse's lives is no more. But instantly this happens, another of the fingers places another "life" in the breach. If the trouble is still on the line, Repeater Fuse loses another of his lives, and possibly a third. When, in rare instances, the elements of all three cartridge fuses are exploded, that means that Nature or accident has caused more than momentary trouble. Then real-life heroes—the members of our capable repair crews—go out on the line and speedily restore service, and renew the elements in the repeater fuse, so that it may again play its part when necessary.

Interruptions to your electric service are rare, because most electrical disturbances are only momentary, and repeater fuses and other ingenious equipment such as you've been reading about in these advertisements, handle them automatically and so swiftly that, except for a brief flicker of your lights, you do not know there has been a disturbance.

It takes more than merely poles, wires and "free money" to supply dependable electric service.

Make This a Red Letter Year For Red Cross

Chapters Making Efforts To Increase State Roll Call This Year

Birmingham, Ala.—On the eve of another roll call drive in Alabama 3,000 volunteer Red Cross workers are organized by 78 chapters to make 1938 a red letter Red Cross year in the state. Spurred on by last year's fine achievements, with an increase of more than 30 per cent, leaders have set a goal this year of more than 40 per cent increase. The state led the nation last year in percentage increase.

Armistice Day marked the opening of the twenty-second annual roll call and despite last year's great work Alabama still remains far down the list nationally. During the period of November 11 to Thanksgiving volunteer workers will invite citizens to enroll in this great agency for relief of human suffering and at the conclusion of the campaign state leaders hope to count Alabama's membership far in excess of last year's 48,500.

Local chapters derive direct benefit from the campaign because all funds except 50 cents on each membership go into the local treasury. Of the money derived by National Red Cross last year, some $24,250, all was spent and more than that sum in addition, in disaster and relief work alone in the state.

Mid-Alabama Campaign

Among the sections of the state planning on a sharp increase in enrollment this year is the strip right at mid-Alabama, comprised of areas covered by chapters of Chilton, Coosa, North Bibb, North Perry at Marion, Shelby, South Perry at Uniontown, and South Bibb at Centerville.

Chilton, which last year made a highly creditable showing, this year is conducting one of the most active campaigns in the state under the direction of J. Mell Martin of Clanton. Chilton last year was in the upper bracket in the state but Chairman Martin is not satisfied and has set as his goal a much larger increase which will fit in with the state-wide objective of a 40 per cent increase this year.

In Shelby, Miss Myrtle Brooke of Montevallo, chapter chairman, has designated Karl Harrison and Mrs. Lena Merrell of Columbiana as roll call co-chairmen in the city and communities, assuring a fine county-wide organization.

The other chapters of the area are making plans for an intensive campaign.

Community Chest Has $1,774 Pledged

Final figures obtained from Treasurer R. P. Holcomb Wednesday afternoon showed that a total of $1,774 has been subscribed to the Montevallo Community Chest for 1938-39. This figure is over the top by $74, as the amount asked for by the Board was $1700.

Last year the goal was $1600 and the amount subscribed was $1708.

In concluding the canvas Dr. A. W. Vaughan, chairman of the soliciting committee, said:

"I wish to commend the fine work done by the solicitors for the Community Chest, both in town and on the college campus. Likewise, the spirit of our people in giving so liberally to support of the Chest is most gratifying."

Everybody in this community should rejoice to know that the Chest is assured of another year of operation comparable in scope to the splendid service rendered the past year.

CONFERENCE MAKES NAPIER HEAD OF METHODIST BOARD

Dean T. H. Napier was elected chairman of the Board of Christian Education at the meeting of the North Alabama Methodist Conference in Anniston, November 3-7.

Dean Napier has been a member of the board for eight years, and he succeeds Dr. Guy E. Snively, former president of Birmingham-Southern College, as chairman of the board. The Rev. V. H. Hawkins, a former pastor of the Montevallo Methodist Church, was elected executive secretary of the board.

Bankhead Will Speak At Clanton Saturday

County Agent A. A. Lauderdale has sent the following public announcement to the farmers of Shelby County:

Senator John H. Bankhead is scheduled to speak in Clanton at 10:30 Friday, November 18th.

It is generally conceded that Senator Bankhead is the greatest farm leader in Congress, and the best friend of the farmer.

In order that you may more fully understand the farm program, I am writing to ask that you take off a few hours and go to Clanton to hear the Senator speak.

I hope you will fill your car with your neighbors, or if you do not have a car, get lined up with someone else in the community and go.

The Times urges our farmer readers to go to Clanton and hear the Senator. You will vote on the cotton question December 10. You should have the benefit of Senator Bankhead's ideas in forming your own opinion about the cotton problem.

P. T. A. Membership Reaches Total 172

The regular meeting of the Montevallo P. T. A. was held Tuesday night at the Elementary School, with the president, Mr. W. J. Kennerly, presiding.

Group singing was enjoyed under the direction of Mrs. Josephine Waller. The executive committee reported the decision to continue meeting on the third Tuesday night of each month. Mrs. W. F. Tidwell gave out the new yearbooks. The subject of study for the year is "Every Day Living in a Modern World."

Mrs. F. H. Frost reported for the membership committee and reported 172 members on the roll.

Miss Antoinette Beasley spoke on "Patterns for Learning in the High School."

The social hour was spent at the High School Economics Department where tea was served under the management of Miss Mary Love Martin, by the High School home economics girls.

Mrs. A. W. Vaughan was chairman of the hostess group.

The next meeting will be held December 9.

Rev. Shores Comes To Methodist Church

The Rev. J. M. Shores, who has been on the Camp Hill-Waverly charge for the past four years, is the new pastor of Montevallo Methodist Church. He occupied the pulpit last Sunday.

Rev. O. R. Burns, who has been here two years, has gone to the pastorate in Russellville.

Next Sunday night all denominations in Montevallo will join in a union service at the Methodist Church, welcoming Rev. Shores to our town.

During a ten year period, 1927 to 1937, United States Internal Revenue collection increased from $2,865,683,130 to $4,653,195,315. The collections in Alabama increased from $6,364,860.80 in 1936 to $16,886,444.05 in 1938. These figures are for the fis-

Will Preside at Meet

Oscar Johnston, who manages the "world's largest" cotton plantation in the Mississippi Delta, will preside over the organization meeting of the National Cotton Council at Memphis on November 21, when delegates elected by cotton men of fifteen southern states from North Carolina to California will meet to launch a national campaign to sell more cotton. Mr. Johnston was formerly director of the U. S. Cotton Pool and vice-president of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Dates for Cotton Meetings

"On December 10th the cotton farmers will vote on Cotton Marketing Quotas for 1938," says County Agent A. A. Lauderdale. "A series of meetings will be held over the county to explain the operation of the program, and we want to urge you to attend the meeting in your community so that you may more fully understand the cotton situation and the operation of the program."

HAMILTON-MARLAR MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED AUGUST 26

Montevallo friends of Miss Ada Jean Hamilton and Mr. John Thomas Marlar will be interested to learn of their marriage which was solemnized on August 26.

Mrs. Marlar graduated at Alabama College last year and has been teaching since then. Her home is at Grove Hill.

Mr. Marlar is employed by the Alabama Power Company. Last year he was with the local operations in Montevallo. For some months he has been with the distribution department of the company. His home is at Clanton.

Anti-Typhoid Campaign In Shelby County

Montgomery, Ala.—Shelby County's 1937 anti-typhoid campaign was centered largely upon the administration by the County Health Department of typhoid vaccine to a total of 1,085 persons during the year, the annual report of Dr. Douglas L. Cannon, Director of County Organization of the the State Department of Health, reveals.

This report, included in the complete published report of the State Health Department, shows that 176,438 typhoid immunizations were administered last year by the county health departments of the 64 counties having local health units during the major part of the year. The three counties not covered by this total are Autauga and St. Clair, which were not organized until the end of the year, and Bibb, which did not have a county health department in 1937, although such a department has been functioning there since last January 1.

Miss Vaughan Weds Mr. Bragunier

A marriage of great interest to her many friends in Montevallo is that of Miss Margaret Vaughan, of Birmingham, a former student of Alabama College, to Mr. Carl Edwin Bragunier, of New York City. The wedding took place at the home of her parents on Tuscaloosa Avenue, Wednesday, at 8:30.

The vows were read by Dr. Frank Cross before an altar of greenery and baskets of chrysanthemums. Wrought iron candelabra held lighted tapers. The nuptial music was played by Miss Margaret Hanlin.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, who served as maid of honor. She was dressed in gold crepe and carried an arm bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums.

Miss Vaughan was given in marriage by her father, Edmund W. Vaughan. She wore a street-length dress of French gray styled with the fullness in the front and tied with a rope sash. Her flowers were bronze chrysanthemums.

Mr. C. C. Taggart served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Bragunier is a graduate of Alabama College. She was a popular student in both college and town.

Mr. Bragunier attended the University of Alabama and Harvard.

Mrs. Edmund W. Vaughan, mother of the bride, entertained with a reception after the wedding. She received her guests wearing a du-bonnet dress. Mother of the groom, Mrs. J. S. Bragunier, also wore a du-bonnet dress with gold trim.

The dining table was covered with lace and centered with a wedding cake. Tea was poured by Mrs. Alvin McGaughey and Mrs. B. Barrett, assisted by Misses Barbara Calloway, Saranel Burford, Judith and Gene Heath.

The couple will make their home in New York City.

Mrs. George Craig has gone to Selma to make her home. For the past ten years she lived in Montevallo with the late Mrs. W. B. Reynolds.

Mrs. C. S. Dap has been ill for a few days but is now improving.

Farmers Who Are Eligible to Vote On Cotton

Question of Marketing Quotas To Be Settled in Election December 10

All farmers who, in 1938, produced cotton with a staple less than 1½ inches in length will be eligible to vote in the referendum on cotton marketing quotas for 1939, states an announcement by A. W. Jones, state AAA administrative officer in Alabama.

Under the farm act, marketing quotas are not applicable to cotton with a staple of 1½ inches or longer—such as sea-island cotton. Therefore, a farmer who produced such cotton this year is not eligible to vote in the referendum unless he also produced cotton with a staple less than 1½ inches in length. No cotton producer will be entitled to more than one vote whether an individual, a partnership, corporation, association, or firm.

Other main facts about the referendum follow:

The referendum will be held on December 10, 1938.

Secret Ballot

Voting places will be provided for all counties and communities where cotton is produced. County committees will be in charge of the arrangements and the voting will be conducted like any regular election. Three local farmers will be named by the county committee to serve as election officers in each community. The county committee will also designate the voting place in each community and see that a ballot box is provided at the voting place.

A secret ballot will be used. This means that each farmer will mark his ballot privately and cast it in the customary way, as in any other election.

The question to be decided is whether or not marketing quotas are to apply to next year's cotton crop.

If two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum give their approval, quotas will be effective in 1939. Quotas will apply to all states, counties, and communities if approved.

Music Program At Y.W.C.A. Vespers

The Symphonic A Capella Choir of mixed voices under direction of Vernon E. Noah will be presented at the Y. W. C. A. Vesper services at Palmer Hall Next Sunday at 4:30 p.m. This choir is from Highland Methodist Church, Birmingham, and is recognized as one of the finest choral organizations in the South.

The College Y. W. C. A., sponsors of this program, extend a special invitation to the people of the town and community to attend.

Missionary Convention To Be At Wilton

A missionary convention will be held at the Gospel Tabernacle, in Walton, on November 21-22. The following speeches will be heard:

Rev. Ray Clark from Peru, South America, will show pictures of missionary work among the Spanish and Indians.

Rev. Howard Van Dyck of Central China, was in Sino-Jap war and saw actual fighting. Will tell of experiences in the war, also murders and kidnapping of missionaries.

Rev. W. I. McGarvey, district superintendent.

Rev. Glenn V. Tingley, pastor of Birmingham Gospel Tabernacle.

The lectures will be illustrated with costumes and pictures. The public is cordially invited.

NEW LICENSE SCHEDULE ON AMUSEMENTS

The Town Council Monday night adopted a license schedule for amusement devices which, in effect, may mean that Montevallo will not be visited by street carnivals so long as the ordinance is in force.

The provisions made setting the new license provides that operators of such shall pay $25 for each device operated for the first week and $50 per day for each device operated for over a week. The present schedule is $15 a week for each device.

Motion to set up the new rates was made by Mr. F. P. Givhan and seconded by Dr. Hallie Farmer. Those voting for the motion were Mr. Givhan, Mr. Mahan, Dr. Farmer, and Mayor Acker. J. A. Brown expressed strong opposition to it, and cast his vote against it. Councilman C. G. Sharp was not present. (This is in accordance with the minutes of Clerk C. M. Gardner.)

Comparing the operation of the new license schedule as adopted Monday night with the one previously in effect, Clerk Gardner gave The Times the following figures:

When the Lee Amusement Company was here this fall they operated for two weeks. Under the schedule of license then in effect Mr. Lee paid the town a total of $127.50 for operating his various amusement devices for that period of time.

Now, under the schedule adopted Monday night, if Mr. Lee should come back again and operate his carnival the same length of time as he did before (which he will not do) he would have to pay the town a total license of $1,500.

This means that "the merry-go-round has broke down," boys and girls. Most likely it will not come here any more because the license is so high.

But we still have the picture show. The license for its operations (Jack Pot and all) remains at $25 a year.

We can at least be thankful that the new license schedule does not "prohibit" all amusements.

It is a pity the fun of driving to the county seat and back should be so soured by the extremely rough and unpaved stretch of road by Shelby Springs. We wish somebody would agree on something over there and get that bad place paved.

Mr. Clyde J. Davis, alias Mr. Hi-Plane, of Montgomery, came up to Montevallo last week-end to visit with his old friends. Mr. Davis was formerly an employee of The Times. He now holds down a position with the State Planning Commission. His many friends here were glad to see him again.

This year's crop of peanuts, a leading crop in Southeast Alabama, will about equal the record crop of 1936, and will probably total well over a billion pounds of peanuts, the U. S. Bureau of Economics reports.

Alabama farmers are expected to share in the improved demand for farm products and increased farm income in prospect for the coming year, according to P. O. Davis, director of the Alabama Extension Service, in commenting upon the outlook. Reports issued recently by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics which indicate a slight rise in price for products and a reduction of the disparity between prices received by farmers and the prices paid by them.

The records of cotton production being kept by ginners and the promptness with which ginners report this to the county AAA committee is important to each cotton producer, since these reports are used as the basis in determining normal yield per acre, according to AAA workers.

But It's True

The lobster incident was reported by the Soviet Academy of Scientists, which said that it was also successful in reviving spiders which dated from the same period.

DON'T SHOOT CCC MEN

An appeal to Alabama hunters to exercise care in discharging firearms in the vicinity of Civilian Conservation Corps camps and projects during the hunting season has been directed to the State Conservation Department by National CCC Director Robert Fechner, of Washington. "We request that all hunters refrain from hunting within rifle range of any work project in your state," Director Fechner wrote. "For your information, each camp is authorized and requested to post warning signs within one-half mile in all directions surrounding its boundary and work projects, also to enforce certain safe practices among enrollees." For the past five years the CCC director has appealed to sportsmen in various states to help reduce hazards of men engaged in CCC work projects. Cooperation of state departments and individuals has kept the accident list relatively low, Director Fechner declared.

The average weekly earnings of factory workers in New York in 1937 was $28.

Letter to The Editor

Editor of The Times:

On a recent visit to the Montevallo Cemetery I was surprised to find buried there some of the earliest pioneers of this state. There are markers bearing dates going back beyond the date on which Alabama became a state.

Not only is this cemetery one of the oldest in the state, but it has the possibilities of being one of the most beautiful to be found anywhere, if a small amount of money was wisely spent in beautifying and preserving this historical landmark.

I feel sure that if one, or all of the wide awake civic clubs of Montevallo would make a determined effort, a WPA grant of $5,000, or some sufficient amount, could be obtained to restore and beautify this cemetery and make it a place the state as a whole and Montevallo in particular would be proud of. Preserving a cemetery of such historical background should be of more than local interest and I feel sure such grant could be obtained if attempted in an enthusiastic manner by any of the town's civic clubs.

The soil, landscape and other natural surroundings are such as to be a delight to any landscape gardener and when once restored and beautified, it could be maintained by one colored caretaker at a very small monthly cost.

If this suggestion is of interest to anyone I would be glad to volunteer my services if there is anything I can do that would be of assistance.

1,003 MILES OF FEDERAL AID ROADS

In the five years ending June 30, 1938, more highway improvements have been completed with Federal funds in Alabama than in the preceding 17 years, according to a report of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads to the office of Judge John D. Petree, State Director for the National Emergency Council. The improvements include construction and paving of 1,003 miles and elimination of 50 grade crossings. Al told, they represent an investment of $34,343,443 in Federal funds.

Most cotton farmers in Choctaw are saving seed of D. P. L., Stoneville, Cook's 144, and Clevevilt for planting purposes, says A. G. Harrell, county agent. Seed are very carefully handled to prevent heating in storage since many poor stands this year were due to the fact that seed were not properly dried before they were stored.

HUNTING ACCIDENTS

Up to November 5, four persons had been killed and six wounded by hunting accidents and mistakes in Alabama. A hunting accident is where a gun is accidentally discharged, wounding or killing a person; while a hunting mistake is where a hunter fires at any moving object thinking it to be game or birds, and hits a person. During the entire 1937-38 hunting season, nine were killed and 32 persons wounded in Alabama.

$12,699,567 ROAD PROGRAM

The current road building program of the State and U. S. Bureau of Public Roads will involve an investment of $12,699,567, according to Judge John D. Petree, State Director of the National Emergency Council. The program embracing work under construction, work under contract and work approved but not yet under contract, involves the paving and construction of 494 miles of roads and elimination of 14 grade crossings. The Federal government will pay $7,211,381 of the total cost.

Walk water off a field rather than let it run because when it runs it carries valuable plant food and top soil. That's a good rule for soil-conscious farmers.

BEERY AND ROONEY TEAMED FOR THE FIRST TIME IN "STABLEMATES"

Wallace Beery is seen as "Lunk", once a brilliant veterinarian who has been forced to become a track bum, because of a framed murder charge. Rooney is seen as a stableboy, who trades his wages for an injured race-horse so that the animal won't be destroyed.

FOOTBALL GAME WEDNESDAY

Montevallo will have the last and biggest game of the year next Wednesday, November 23, when Columbiana comes here. This game will have all the extras it has been accustomed to have in the past, with the addition of the entire student body from Shelby County High School.

The game will start at 12:45 and everybody's urged to come. You will enjoy the tense enthusiasm of this occasion.

CLUB WOMAN FINDS SEWING PROFITABLE

Gadsden, Ala. — The sewing art can accomplish a lot of things, according to Dianna B. Williams, home demonstration agent in Etowah County, who believes that Mrs. Nell Davis, of the Webb-Whitesboro Club in that county, deserves a prize.

Mrs. Davis made over two coats, one for a child and one for a woman. Neither cost anything and she saved $30 in the operation since the woman's coat is valued at $25 and the child's at $5.

Mrs. Davis also made two suits for herself from discarded men's suits. With nothing paid for the original suits she saved $40, the value she placed on the two completed suits for herself. Then she took a man's coat, made a short one from it worth $10. Then to make the sewing job complete, she bought new material for $5, made a $20 spring coat, and saved $15 in the operation.

Mrs. Davis' score: 100 dollars worth of clothes with expense of $5 and a worn out thimble.

HEALTHIEST BOY AND GIRL CHOSEN

Auburn, Ala.—One of the most worthwhile programs of the 4-H clubs in Alabama was brought to a close for the year Saturday, in Birmingham, when the most healthy 4-H club boy and girl were selected to represent Alabama in the national health contest at the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago late in November.

The contest, according to Elizabeth DeLony, state 4-H club girls' leader, is conducted in the counties by the 4-H club and home demonstration agents. Those entered in the health contest have a physical examination in the fall, given with the cooperation of the county health unit. The doctor, home agent, and nurse visit the clubs for the examinations. A card showing the defects of each club member is filed in the home agent's office and health office. Both the agent and health unit and other agencies work together in the correction of defects.

Growers of improved pecans are urged to contact their county agents regarding a pecan diversion purchase program under which the Pecan Stabilization Association will buy pecans all through the season to reduce surplus and bolster prices.

Into homes, a campaign to eliminate accidents caused by careless habits and faulty equipment last year resulted in self-checks being made in 10,000,000 American homes through cooperation of children in school, women's clubs, farm organizations, and other groups. The 3,700 Red Cross chapters and their branches in every county are cooperating in this national effort to end needless pain and suffering resulting from such accidents.

These efforts to lessen such appalling tolls of human lives and usefulness are made possible through memberships in the Red Cross. The annual Roll Call will be held between November 11 and Thanksgiving Day, when all Americans are asked to join or renew their affiliation to ensure continuation of accident prevention measures.

Gaynor and Fairbanks Have Feature Roles In "The Young in Heart"

The most fascinating family that ever menaced a heart—or a bank-roll—is coming to the Strand Theatre for a two-day visit on Sunday and Monday, November 20-21.

They're the charming (with a capital C) Carletons in David O. Selznick's comedy romance "The Young in Heart," starring Janet Gaynor, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Paulette Goddard, who makes her talking debut following her discovery in Charlie Chaplin's "Modern Times."

Prominently featured in the supporting cast of this film based on the I. A. R. Wylie Saturday Evening Post serial, "The Gay Banditti," are Roland "Topper" Young, Billie "Mrs. Topper" Burke, Henry Stephenson, popular character actor, Richard Carlson, romantic newcomer from the New York stage, and Minnie Dupree, for more than four decades a popular Broadway actress.

Janet Gaynor has a new type of role in "The Young in Heart" as the daughter who helps her adventurous family chisel their way from the fun-loving Riveria to London, and whose loyalty to them almost costs her the love of her highly-principled young millionaire fiance (Richard Carlson).

Her brother (Fairbanks, Jr.) also assists in the game of charming fakery until he meets a beautiful secretary, in the person of Paulette Goddard, and completely forgets his frantic search for an heiress.

Father "Sahib" Carleton (Roland Young) does his part by carrying a spare ace up his sleeve, while "Marmy" (Billie Burke) twitters along in her charming fashion helping wherever she can.

The Carletons get kicked out of only the best places. They can turn on their Charm like you'd turn on a faucet. They're guests of the world, these engaging phonies, until at last they match their wits against a lonely old lady's heart. Then things begin to happen that surprise even these blithe and blase spirits.

The screen play of "The Young in Heart" was written by Paul Osborn, who penned the Broadway hit, "On Borrowed Time," and Charles Bennett, noted English author and film writer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hicks of Talladega spent the week-end with Mrs. E. G. Smitherman.

FOOTBALL

Montevallo Bulldogs stopped Isabella's running attack dead here last Friday while they ran up a one-sided score of 25-6.

Isabella made their only touchdown in the third quarter on a forward pass. The attempted place kick for conversion was no good.

Montevallo scored in the last minutes of the first quarter when Dement went over from the one yard stripe. The point after touchdown was not good. They scored in the second quarter when Vaughan tossed a touchdown pass to Busby, this being one of the best executed plays of the game. Vaughan kicked from placement for the extra point.

Montevallo set up a touchdown early in the fourth quarter when Vaughan threw a long pass to C. Harrison which, combined with the run after completion, netted almost fifty yards. The touchdown was scored on the next play when Smith carried the ball over on a reverse end run. The kick was just a little wide, bouncing on the outside of the goal post. In the same period Williamson intercepted a pass and didn't come to a stop sign until the goal line was crossed—no good on kick.

Montevallo's play was featured by superb aerial offense in which they completed four passes out of six attempted. Williamson, R. Lovelady and Adkins intercepted Isabella's passes to bolster Montevallo's pass defense.

Outstanding players for Montevallo in the line were P. Thomas, H. Thomas, Lawley and Adkins.

Montevallo will have their last and largest game of the year on Wednesday, November 23, when Columbiana comes here. This game will have all the extras it has been the custom to have in the past, with the addition of Columbiana's student body. The game will be called at 12:45.

BOOTHTON 4-H CLUB NEWS

On October 13 we had our first meeting of club work. The officers that were elected are: Mae Walker, president; Mary Lawrence, vice-president; Clara Gentry, secretary and treasurer; Dorothy Littlefield, reporter; Nellie Brasher, cheer leader; Margaret McDaniel, song leader.

Our home demonstration teacher has appointed Mrs. Geraldine Davis as local leader.

We are happy to say that we have our club organized again this year, and we hope it is going to be among the best in Shelby County.

We held our second meeting on November 10 and there were some helpers appointed. The president appointed Maxine Peoples as program leader, Dorothy Williamson and Alma Ruth Daily as record book captains.

The vice-president appointed Irene Haley, Louise Gentry and Eloise Blocker to help give the demonstration at the next meeting.

NINE TYPHOID CASES IN COUNTY LAST YEAR

Nine of the total of 317 cases of typhoid reported last year to the State Department of Health were reported from Shelby County, according to a compilation prepared by the State Department's Bureau of Preventable Diseases for inclusion in the Health Department's annual report.

These figures show that 3.2 persons out of very 10,000 living in the county had typhoid at some time during the year.

In the state as a whole, these figures show one white person out of every 10,000 and 1.2 colored persons out of every 10,000 had this disease during the year. Fifty-two 1937 typhoid deaths were reported to the State Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics, of which 21 were of white persons and 31 of Negroes. The 1937 typhoid death rates were 1.1 per 100,000 population for white people, 3.0 per 100,000 population for Negroes, and 1.8 per 100,000 population for the entire state.

The love for an old-fashioned open fireplace is as old as mankind, yet an open fireplace is almost as inefficient heating unit as the first fire by which man warmed himself, says H. W. Dearing, assistant agricultural engineer of the Alabama Extension Service.

B. P. W. Hold Regular Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club will be held at the St. George Hotel on Monday night, November 21, at 7:30.

The topic for discussion will be "Employer - Employee Relationships." Brief talks on problems are to be given by six club members representing different vocations. Miss Anne Eastman is in charge.

B. P. W. Members Attend Meeting

The State Board of Directors of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, on which the local branch boasts three members, met in Montgomery Saturday, November 12. Dr. Minnie L. Steckel, state health chairman, represented the local organization.

On Sunday a joint third and fourth district meeting was held. Miss Lelah Brownfield, local president, Miss Annie Irvin, and Miss Minnie B. Tracey attended.

Highlights of the program were a skit on program coordination presented by District Number Four, of which Montevallo is a member; an address, "My Business and Yours," by Mrs. Carrie K. Andrews, state president.

A luncheon was served at the Whitley Hotel at which a short but interesting program was given and at which endeavor was made to acquaint the members with delegates and officers from various cities in the state.

Clubs represented were: Dothan, Anniston, Bay Minette, Mobile, Montgomery, Birmingham, Fairfield, Carbon Hill, Parrish, Montevallo, Tuscaloosa, Columbiana, and Jasper.

Pete Jarman Attends Civic Club Luncheon

The Montevallo Civic Club had an interesting meeting Wednesday. Mr. Bob Reid presided in the absence of President Lewis.

Gordon McCloskey and Mack Wyatt discussed the subject of neutrality in case of an European war.

Congressman Pete Jarman attended the meeting as guest of Dr. Napier.

In a short talk Mr. Jarman commended President Harman of Alabama College for his untiring and successful efforts in securing the new building program at the college.

Mr. Kermit Woolley spent the past week-end at Jonesboro, Arkansas.

Mr. Eddie Watson was in Atlanta a few days this week on business.

EMPLOYED 3,816 FOR 5 YEARS

The federal road construction program, which has added 1,033 miles of paving and road construction to the Alabama system, has provided, on an average, employment for 3,816 persons for a period of five years, according to reports to Judge John D. Petree, state director of the National Emergency Council.

ROAD BUILDING SPREADS JOBS

For every 100 men employed in the construction of a modern highway, 160 others are employed in mines, mills, quarries and manufacturing plants to produce the materials and supplies necessary for highway construction, according to Judge John D. Petree, state director of the National Emergency Council.

Building Committee Reports Progress on Cabin Plans

The building committee for the Boy Scout cabin held a meeting Tuesday night and outlined a plan of procedure that will begin active work on construction on the cabin within the next week.

The first stakes will be set Thursday, after which the ground will be prepared for the foundation. Material will be purchased and assembled by the end of next week.

According to plans of the building committee it is expected that the cabin will be ready for use by the Scouts on January the first.

Christmas Seals Fight T. B.

Tuberculosis is a disease that lays its heaviest toll on children and young adults. Of deaths due to tuberculosis an average of 72 per cent is in this group. Tuberculosis is both curable and preventable. Cure can only follow on diagnosis. Physical examinations, which begin with stethoscope as pictured above, will be given to adults and children in Shelby County this year through the Shelby County Tuberculosis Association. The association will be supported solely by the revenue from the Christmas Seals, which will go on sale Thanksgiving Day.

MAKE YOUR MONEY COUNT IN A COAT

Auburn, Ala. — Buying a winter coat? Then study the personal needs before choosing the kind of coat which your money will buy. Catherine Haynes, clothing and handicraft specialist of the Alabama Extension Service, advises Alabama housewives.

Each lady who spends money for a coat desires satisfaction for the money which she has made herself or by some means "wrangled" from "friend husband." Points she should consider are occasions when coat will be worn, type needed, number of years coat will be worn, price that can be paid, and color which must be adapted to long-time needs.

Women should look also with discernment toward the all-purpose coat which has simple and conservative lines, a semi-tailored garment. A dressy coat belongs only in the wardrobe of the woman who has more than one coat to wear. Miss Haynes says to look for a coat with a high neck to keep out the cold, a close fitting sleeve at the wrist, a wide front lap, ample walk-room, room, comfortable shoulders, long sleeves, ample sitting room, and a good hem.

Other points for one to search for in the winter coat are pre-shrunk, color fast fabric, high percentage of wool, and a label with a fabric guarantee, coat cut accurately on correct grain of material, armholes and seams reinforced with pre-shrunk tape, interlining of muslin in front and back shoulders to preserve fit, sleeve lining put in by hand to give fullness, coat and lining hemmed separately, and hem and facing finished separately.

Judgment and study will mean money well spent on the winter coat and more serviceable wear after it is bought, Miss Haynes says.

Interesting Talks Given Monday Night

"My Employer and My Employees"
Discussed At Meeting of Business Women

At the regular monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, held at the St. George Hotel Monday night, November 21, very interesting and instructive talks were given by four members representing four different professions.

Mrs. Denson Elliott spoke from the point of view of an employee of a public utility corporation—the Alabama Power Company, describing the very friendly relationship existing between the employees and the officials of that company.

Miss Ethel Reasoner next discussed personnel work from the department store angle, dipping deep into her own experiences to bring forth stories to illustrate her several points. According to Miss Reasoner, the personnel director has three main requisites: He must be an executive; he must be genuinely interested in employees so that he can see problems from their point of view; and he must be able to sell his ideas to the executive staff. Miss Reasoner sees a vital need for personnel directors in small stores as well as in large. She feels that lack of service in stores and discontent among the workers are largely due to the fact that employees are uncomfortable in their jobs—a matter which might be taken care of with reasonable ease under the direction of a functioning personnel department.

The Need of Legislation

There is a crying need, according to Mrs. Stanley Mahan, for legislation requiring training and examination of cosmetologists in the State of Alabama. Operators are versed in the practical things to do, but tend to slight the theoretical. Thus many have been lacking in knowledge of sterilization, the skin, hair texture, and the like. Jefferson County requires the passing of rigid examinations. Since there are now only about seven states which do not have such laws, Mrs. Mahan believes that it is time for Alabama as a state to get in line.

Nursing as a Career

Miss Ollie Tillman, Alabama College nurse, concluded the program by describing the training courses and opportunities open to those interested in the career of nursing. Miss Tillman reports that there are some 1,400 nursing schools in the United States. Some of these are in connection with hospitals and others are university training schools. The usual entrance requirements are that the individual be between the ages of 18 and 35 and be at least a high school graduate. After completing three years of training, the student comes up for her state board examinations. Upon passing she may register for regular duty or she may go into some more specialized field such as public health nursing, the higher paid positions being held by those with higher degrees of training.

This program was planned to cover the "My Employer and My Employees" phase of the year's study, "My Business and Yours."

CLIFFORD FULFORD BECOMES MEMBER OF "QUADRANGLE"

University, Ala.—Clifford Fulford, of Montevallo, was initiated this week into the Quadrangle, honorary religious organization for students at the University of Alabama.

Selection of an initiate is based on his scholastic and character standing.

Fulford has received several honors as a student. He is president of the Druids, an honorary society for sophomores, is a member of the Honor Court, the Glee Club, and is active in functions given by the Blackfriars, student dramatic group.

Tuberculin Test Great Aid

Disease that used to stay hidden deep within the human body is now made to come to the surface and display itself through the development of sera by men of science. One of the most effective of such tests is that with tuberculin, as shown above being administered to the small patient. If the little girl has any tuberculosis infection, an irritated spot will appear at the point of the injection and doctors will immediately know what steps to take toward her cure. Such tuberculin tests will be given in this county through the Shelby County Tuberculosis Association. The Association will depend solely on the sale of Christmas seals for funds to carry on its work. The annual Christmas Seal Sale starts Thanksgiving Day.

Scouts Express Appreciation For Help From Community Chest

When the Community Chest Board recently determined and announced allotments of funds to the various participating organizations in the community, each organization was so notified, and requested to make an expression to the Board.

Miss Waurene Jones, secretary of the Board, has received those expressions. Due to extensive interest in the proposed programs of the Boy and Girl Scout organizations in the community, Miss Jones requests The Times to print the replies she has received from them concerning their allotments.

Girl Scouts

"So generous an allocation of funds for the Girl Scout promotion is very heartening at this time. For the Council I wish to express sincere appreciation. It will be most agreeable not to have to solicit any further funds from the public during the year and will allow us to give attention to promotion of the program itself.

"As you know, we are eager to provide a suitable meeting place for troops away from school where they may mind constructive recreation during their leisure time. The college has generously leased a plot of ground large enough for all girls to plant and grow something beautiful, to provide ample room for play, and to keep them away from adult meeting places. When a room or two can be built on this ground, handicrafts and other homemaking projects may go on uninterruptedly.

"The Council has always been concerned for the girls of other communities who attend our schools. Each year troops have been provided for the junior high school age especially—usually two or three of the five we maintain. This year because of the crowded condition in the schools we have made no attempt to organize the out-of-town troops yet because they must meet during school hours and on rainy days must find a meeting place indoors. This causes so much adjusting and so many conflicts that we are waiting for results from the Chest drive to determine whether or not we can build this fall. I wanted our position to be clearly understood because criticism has come from one source of our abandoning the out-of-town project. That we do not wish to do at all. Indeed, to provide a place for these girls to spend the night occasionally, especially to enable them to share with Montevallo Girl Scouts evening parties and good times is one main reason for the Council's having undertaken this courageous enterprise of building a separate place for troop meetings. We have taken great pride in knowing that out of 253 different girls who have participated, 167 have lived out of Montevallo in the surrounding school area. We hope that proportion will continue.

Girls are selling Christmas cards individually to buy uniforms and registrations. This is a nationally approved method of earning for Girl Scouts and we think is in accord with the policy of the Chest Board. If not, we should like to be informed. — Very cordially yours, Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, Commissioner."

Boy Scouts

"Those interested in the Boy Scout program are happy indeed to accept the conditions under which you propose to organize the Montevallo Community Chest for the coming year. We shall make no other public appeal for funds and shall give you our full support in making the Community Chest successful again this year.—Cordially yours, Chas. G. Dobbins, Executive Secretary."

All farmers who in 1938 produced cotton with a staple less than 1½ inches in length will be eligible to vote in the December 10 referendum on cotton marketing quotas for 1939, announces A. W. Jones, AAA officer at Auburn.

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY

Tomorrow, Thursday, November 24, Thanksgiving Day, all the stores in Montevallo will be closed. Do your shopping Wednesday.

Christmas Lights

Mrs. R. P. Holcomb, chairman of the Study Club committee on Christmas lighting, says her organization is going forward with their plans. In a few days the committee will contact citizens of the town in an effort to enlist as many as possible in the movement to have every home express the Christmas spirit with suitable lights.

Mrs. Holcomb says the plans of the committee will include award of prizes for the most beautifully lighted homes.

The committee urges that everyone begin thinking over this matter, and hope that universal cooperation may be had to obtain a really impressive array of lights and colors expressing the spirit of Christmas.

Report of Tuberculosis Campaign Funds

The gross county-wide receipts from the 1937 Tuberculosis Seal Sale amounted to $277.89, the largest returns in several years.

As a result of this generous response on the part of interested Shelby County citizens, the campaign against tuberculosis in the county has had added impetus. One patient with pulmonary tuberculosis has been treated in the Jefferson County Sanitarium since February. This patient has been enabled by these pneumothorax treatments to be up and about her duties as a mother and housekeeper. Also, the danger of contact with her four children has been greatly lessened.

A second patient, a young man, has now begun treatments and after the hospital period, will be able to have the refills from the pneumothorax machine which has recently been purchased from county seal sale funds. This will reduce considerably the expense for both patients.

A child was hospitalized for examination.

Disbursements for 1938: For Kleenex to be used for tuberculosis patients by county health unit, $36.72; 23% of proceeds to state and national organization, $63.14; material for 1937 sale, $6.33; paper bags for tuberculosis patients, $11; treatments at Jefferson Sanitarium, $114.50; Pneumothorax machine for county, $25.86; expense of representatives to state meeting, $2.

Please Asked To Consider License Schedule

Citizens Invited to Present
Their Views at Meeting
Of Council

Mayor Chas. T. Acker Tuesday morning authorized a statement in regard to the license schedule of the Town of Montevallo for next year in which he said:

"The complete license schedule of the Town of Montevallo as proposed for next year will be made public by posting or publication on or before December the first. A period of thirty days will be given for any and all citizens of the town to make protest or suggestions concerning any matter contained in the schedule.

"In the matter of the carnival or amusement license, or any other item, the Council will be glad to consider all suggestions, and modify or alter the provisions thereof in keeping with the wishes of the citizens of the town, insofar as the financial requirements of the town will permit.

"There will be two meetings of the Council in December, at which any citizen or group will be welcomed. Letters or communications addressed to the Council through the city clerk will be given consideration at these meetings."

The Times is glad to publish this statement from Mayor Acker, and to commend his suggestions to the people of Montevallo. In view of the discussions recently current, it seems that there is a good deal of general interest in certain phases of the town's license schedule. Sensing this interest, our Mayor has acted wisely in calling attention to the fact that the Council is willing to hear all suggestions, and hopeful that every question raised may be settled in accordance with the widest general interest of the community.

THANKSGIVING EVENTS AT ALABAMA COLLEGE

Following is the program of events for the Thanksgiving season at Alabama College:

WELCOME REV. SHORES

A hearty welcome was given Rev. John M. Shores to Montevallo last Sunday night when the Baptists, Presbyterians, and Alabama College united in extending the glad hand to the new Methodist pastor.

Dr. Fred B. Pearson presided and spoke for the Baptists. The Presbyterian congregation was represented on the program by Mr. W. J. Kennerly. Dean T. H. Napier was spokesman for the Methodists.

Declaring that the administration of Alabama College is "definitely Christian," President A. F. Harman voiced the welcome of the college to Rev. Shores and pledged the administration to his support in his work on the campus and in the community.

Mr. Shores made a most impressive response to the courtesies extended him, after which he preached a great sermon with "The Bible" as his subject.

A large congregation representing the various denominations attended the services which were held at the Methodist Church.

WHY?

"Why substitute government management for business management? The average politician is in politics because he was a failure in everything else. They do not believe in a balanced budget because they never had one. They do not understand finances because they never made a dollar. Their currency is votes, not dollars, their balance sheets are election returns, not book accounts, and their stock in trade is nostrums for people afflicted with a disease known as gullibility. It is bad enough that they must run the government. Pray heaven, business may escape them." — Senator Josiah Bailey, of North Carolina.

Texas, with its large area, naturally produces more cotton than any of the other cotton producing states. However, its yield per acre is the lowest of any of the states producing the bulk of the cotton grown in the United States except Florida and Oklahoma. Florida shows the lowest production with only 141 pounds per acre. Oklahoma shows 149 pounds and Texas 154. Five states show a production of less than 200 pounds per acre, Georgia, and Virginia being the other two in addition to those named above. California shows the highest production with 591 pounds per acre with Arizona taking second place from the top with 445 pounds followed by New Mexico with 444. The next in line is Missouri with 415 pounds. All the others drop below the three hundred mark except Mississippi, which is producing this year 305 pounds per acre. Alabama was in the three hundred class last year but the estimate this year is 238 pounds per acre.

F. W. Burns, dairy specialist of the Alabama Extension Service, says it will pay farmers in most sections of Alabama to trade cotton seed for cottonseed meal. One hundred pounds of meal is equal to 170 pounds of cotton seed for feeding dairy cattle.

Both comfort and health conditions are improved by window and door screens and what's just as important, they should be regularly maintained for good appearance, offers H. W. Deering, assistant extension agricultural engineer.

AAA Program In Alabama

(By A. W. Jones, Administrative Officer)

Is it certain that we can drive foreigners out of the cotton market, that is, "regain our foreign market," and cut foreign cotton acreage with big crops and low prices as advocated in the domestic allotment plan? Not if we judge the future by the past. Increase in foreign cotton is not a new thing under the sun. From 1870 to 1920 the price of cotton ranged from 6 cents to 40 cents. For the same period the increase in production of foreign cotton was about 44 per cent for each 10-year period. The war reduced foreign production for a short while. After the war the increase started again and has continued.

Since 1870, we have had 19 record American cotton crops, each bigger than any previous crop. In all except 4 of these instances, foreign cotton acreage was actually increased instead of being cut following our big crop. This sets the chances at 15 to 4—nearly 4 to 1—in favor of the conclusion that a big volume of American cotton is by no means certain insurance against an increase in foreign cotton acreage.

In 1925, foreign cotton acreage was 43 million; in 1937, it was 58 million. Ninety per cent of this increase occurred in four countries—Brazil, China, Russia, and Uganda. Causes of the increase in these four countries have little relation to the cotton policy in the United States.

The increase from 1925 to 1937 in Brazil was about 5 million acres. During most of this time the price of Brazilian cotton has been high in comparison with the price of coffee. In the 1925-1929 period the price of a pound of cotton in Sao Paulo, Brazil, averaged only about 170 per cent more than the price of a pound of coffee. The margin in favor of cotton expanded greatly after 1929.

As coffee became cheaper the spread between cotton and coffee widened. In 1931, the spread in favor of cotton was 47 per cent; and in 1937 80 per cent. In addition, by devaluing its money, Brazil has kept the price of cotton to Brazilian producers at or above pre-depression price while the price of cotton to farmers in the United States has ranged from one-third to two-thirds of pre-depression prices. The price of cotton in New Orleans in 1936 was more than 30 per cent below the 1928 price. Held up by currency exchange manipulation, the price of cotton in Brazil was 8 per cent higher in 1936 than in 1928.

For these reasons, farmers in Brazil have shifted from coffee to cotton just as farmers in Oklahoma often shift from wheat to cotton or from cotton to wheat, or the farmers in southeast Alabama and Georgia shift from peanuts to cotton or cotton to peanuts, or peanuts for hogs to peanuts for market. With the price of coffee low and the advantage in favor of cotton, a big cut in coffee acreage and a big gain in cotton acreage in Brazil was inevitable. It would have taken place regardless of the cotton policy of the United States.

It is generally admitted that the increase in Russian cotton has little, if any, relation to our policy. Russia wants to and will produce for her own needs. Regardless of what we do, Russia will determine its own cotton acreage for some time to come.

China is governed slightly more by our own course than Russia, but our policies have very little influence on Chinese cotton acreage. Most Chinese cotton is used in China and China's expansion traces back to the rise of the textile industry in China and Japan.

The increase in Uganda is the result of a British colonial effort begun soon after the turn of the century, and cotton production in that East African country has been encouraged regardless of price. What we do in America has practically no effect on Uganda's course.

The increase in foreign cotton acreage and production and the cut in our exports are related. Sales of American cotton to Germany have been reduced from a normal of more than 1,500,000 bales to about 600,000 bales. This cut in sales of cotton to German mills accounts for more than one-third of the total cut in our exports.

We don't buy much from Germany and Germany doesn't buy our cotton. Cause: The Smoot-Hawley (Continued on back page)

MARVELS THAT KEEP YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE DEPENDABLE

—Last of a Series—

What Makes Alabama Power Company Electric Service Better Than 99% DEPENDABLE?

Ordinarily, when you hear of something spoken of as 99% perfect, you're inclined to consider it pretty good. But did you ever stop to think that if your Alabama Power Company electric service were only 99% good, there would be 87 hours and 36 minutes, or nearly 4 whole days and nights each year, when your electric service would be off? Contrast this with the rare and brief occasions when you experience an interruption to your electric service.

What makes Alabama Power Company electric service so dependable? Even the finest power plants, the most rugged transmission lines, the best equipment cannot, of themselves, supply you with adequate service at low cost. There must be an ideal of service behind them. That this ideal exists you know if it has been your opportunity to learn of the performance of many Alabama Power Company employees in cases of emergency. That same ideal of reliability is what inspires the effort toward constant improvement and installation of devices on Alabama Power Company electric system to keep your electric service as nearly perfect as possible—more perfect than a mere 99%.

The part some of the more interesting of these devices (they're really mechanical marvels) play in helping keep your Alabama Power Company electric service dependable is described in an interesting booklet which is yours for the asking. Write Dept. 319.

The W. M. S. completed the book "For This Cause" on last Monday afternoon after a series of meetings each Monday afternoon during the month for mission study. Seven members completed the book.

The Baptist W. M. S. met at the church Monday afternoon for a program meeting. Mrs. J. S. Ward had charge. The subject discussed was "China—Sheaves With Rejoicing." Mrs. Charlie Adams conducted the devotional. Other members rendering parts were: Mesdames B. B. Curry, Maurice Whetstone Alton Hicks, M. R. Hogan and Miss Alice Nolen. We were glad to welcome two new members in our group, Mrs. E. D. and Mrs. Charlie Sellers.

The Y. W. A.'s elected new officers on Sunday morning for the year 1938-39 as follows: Miss Louise Sanders, president; Miss Sadie Ward, vice-president; Miss Nell Sanders, secretary and treasurer; Miss Johnnie Sanders, personal service chairman; Miss Ida Reeder, membership chairman. On Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday night of this week the group will meet to study the book "For This Cause," by Irabelle Graves Colburn.

The Baptist revival closed Friday night. Rev. Walden of Birmingham delivered inspiring messages each night for two weeks. There were twenty additions to the church. Interest was manifested by the entire community in the meeting.

Miss Margaret Harrison and Mr. J. H. Harrison shopped in Selma Saturday.

Mr. B. B. Curry of Bessemer spent the week-end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Adams and Yvonne spent Sunday afternoon in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Pegues and family of Marion spent Sunday with Mrs. Anna Saunderson and Miss Evelyn Saunderson.

Misses Sybil and Bessie Smithman of Randolph are visiting relatives here for several days.

Messrs. F. W. Bassett, Frank, Jr., and Robert Adams spent Saturday in Selma.

Miss Pauline Bean of Calera spent Thursday night with Miss Olivia Adams.

Lonnie Reeder went to Bessemer Sunday to work in the NYA organization there.

Mr. Hove Splawn spent last Monday afternoon in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cosper of Columbiana spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thompson.

Mrs. Lance Hubbard motored to Montgomery Monday with Mr. Hubbard, who returned to his work there after spending the week-end at home.

tariff and similar restrictions. But Germany has increased her purchases of cotton from Brazil. She did this for the simple reason that she could not obtain dollar exchange to buy our cotton. She could work out a barter arrangement with Brazil, one of the reasons being that Brazil found it much better to ship cotton out of the country to buy industrial products than to try to buy these products with depreciated ed currency.

The loss of exports to France and Italy and other countries also is due in the main to tariff barriers—to our refusal to admit foreign products. They cannot get dollar exchange for use in buying our cotton.

Thus we see by examination of the essential facts that the chief argument for the so-called domestic allotment plan—that unlimited production would recapture our world markets—is not supported by experience or economic justification.

The Little Shop of Personal Service GOSSARD'S Bosom-High Girdle

Extends 3 inches above the waist, entirely eliminating any possibility of a "spare tire." The reinforcement extends over the hips to avoid those nasty bulges. Model 535 is of open weave 2-way elastic and satin. $5.00

Lace and bow-knot satin make the 3-way bra. Straps can be worn halter, criss-cross, or straight. Model 8040.
